League Spokesman Says No Further Action Is Now Contemplated

(International News Service)
Japan today carried out her announced program of occupying the important city of Chinchow, Southern Manchuria, over the energetic protests of the United States Government and the League of Nations.

Advance elements entered Chinchow early this morning on the heels of the retreating Chinese and other forces continued to pour into the town during the day, encountering no resistance.

Floyd Gibbons, noted war correspondent accompanying the Japanese army for International News Service, reported the Japanese had detailed at Koupingtze, Lieut. Harry S. Aldrich, American language officer attached to the Peiping legation, who has been acting as neutral observer for the Washington government.

PA NEW OBSERVES

These silvered Christmas trees were more prevalent this year than at any previous time. Each limb and pine needle are covered with aluminum tint.

Following the heavy rains of the last few days, the Shenango river shot up to a new high figure, when a stage of 8 feet was recorded this morning. This will probably be exceeded before the present rise reaches its crest.

The weatherman just couldn't make it yesterday, when snow was promised. For a time the weather conditions gave promise of being colder and some snow accompanying, but later in the day the change back to warmer and rain occurred.

Start the new year right! Go to church services on Sunday!

Pupils of the schools, who have been on a vacation for the past week or more, have been rather handicapped for out of door enjoyment of the holiday due to the mild rainy conditions. There was a chance to use skates or sled.

By today the fir tree-lined curbs along Washington street began to assume their normal appearance again.

Why can't some of the discarded Christmas trees in the backyards of homes be taken to the City Rescue Mission's "community log pile" on South Mercer street? There may not be so very many, but it's most likely choppers wouldn't get much chance to sit around them this time. It would furnish firewood and eliminate a black eye in the backyards.

Daily Weather Report

U. S. weather bureau statistics for the 24-hour period ending at 9 o'clock this morning follow:
Maximum temperature, 48.
Minimum temperature, 35.
Precipitation, .23 inches.
River stage 8 feet, rising.

Statistics for the same date a year ago, follow:
Maximum temperature, 25.
Minimum temperature, 5.
Precipitation, .03 inches, snowfall.

Temperatures During December Above Normal

December temperatures were far above normal, climaxing one of the warmest falls that has been experienced in many years.
There was an excess of 238.7 degrees above the normal in the temperature, while the amount of rainfall was also 2.07 degrees above the normal amount. The average daily temperature was 7.7 degrees above the normal figure for December.
The records of the U. S. Weather Observer show the following:
Mean maximum temperature, 46; mean minimum temperature, 29.2 degrees mean average temperature for month, 37.6 degrees. The normal mean average for December is 29.9 degrees, so it will be seen that there was an excess above the normal of 7.7 degrees each day. The highest temperature was 60 degrees on the day before Christmas, while the lowest was 18 degrees on December 8. The greatest daily range was 31 degrees on December 4.
The total precipitation for the month was 4.53 inches. The greatest amount of rainfall in 24 hours occurred on December 13, when .88 inches fell. The normal precipitation for December is 2.46 inches, so it will be seen that there was an excess of 2.07 inches. The snowfall amounted to but two-tenths of an inch, as near as could be reckoned, which is away below the normal. There were 16 days during the month when .01 inches or more of rainfall was noted. Days clear were four, days partly cloudy, 16, and days cloudy, 11.
In December, 1930, the temperature was exactly normal, the mean average being 29.9 degrees. The rainfall amounted to 2.82 inches, or .36 inches above the normal figure for the month.

Village Hall Is Scene Of Siege Near Cleveland

Marshal And Four Deputies Attempt To Keep Mayor-Elect Out Of Office

COURT BATTLE IS COMMENCED

(International News Service)
CLEVELAND, Jan. 2.—Armed with a sawed-off shotgun, four pistols and a baseball bat, Marshal Tom Glassburner and four deputies today held the Miles Heights village hall by force against Mayor-elect Alfred Bradley, who was scheduled to take office yesterday.

The siege, resulting from annexation proceedings, started New Year's eve and was expected to come to an end sometime today when Mayor-elect Bradley goes into court with an ouster petition.

The situation developed from a vote by county commissioners Tuesday approving the annexation of the village to Cleveland. The vote was certified by the Secretary of State Wednesday and the certification was interpreted as making binding the annexation, effective immediately.

Seige Is Opened

Citing the Cleveland law department's ruling that the city council cannot act on the annexation until 60 days have passed, Mayor-elect Bradley maintained the annexation does not become effective until then and that he can hold office at least until that time.

Solicitor Philip Sampliner instructed Glassburner not to turn over the village records to Bradley and the seige began.

Ray S. Tannehill, district manager of the Bell Telephone Company who has been confined to his home for several days by illness, is now on the road to recovery.

Jameson Hospital Board Of Directors Highly Commended

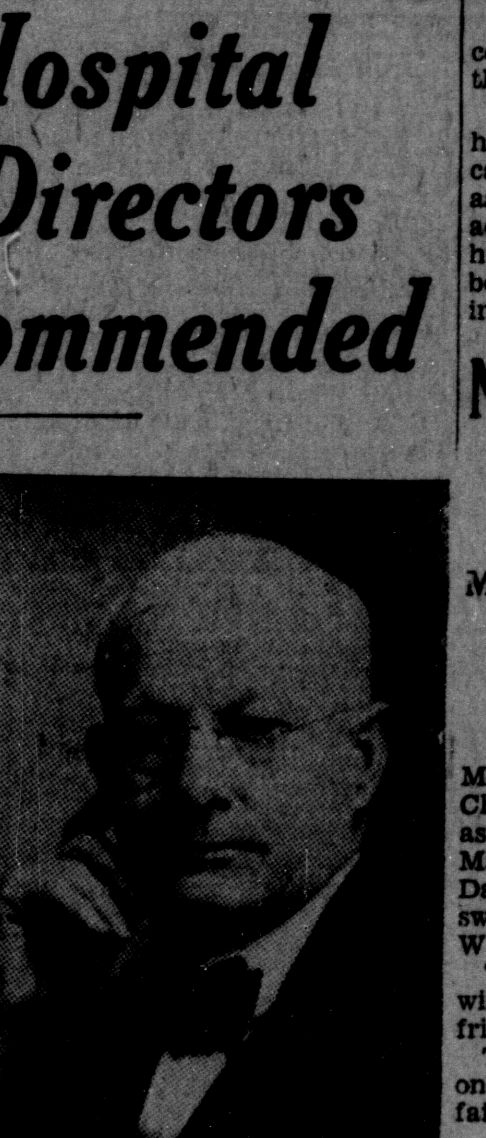

Dr. Loys W. Wilson this morning in speaking of the character of representation on the board of the Jameson Memorial hospital said:
"The hospital is managed by a board of directors composed of well known men and women all of whom are respected for their business ability. These directors have been New Castle residents for many years, many of them are members of old established New Castle families and naturally are well acquainted with local conditions. They give liberally of their time and in the past have given liberality of their money to make up hospital deficits. It is needless to say that no one of the directors of the hospital receives a cent of remuneration for the time he devotes to hospital affairs. Each renders the service wholly gratuitously, being happy to serve such a worthy cause."
"We know that they are the type of men and women who give a public trust much of their time and careful attention. And we also believe that any mistakes that have been made will be corrected by our able board."
"Any private business in New Castle that could boast of a board of

Three New York Bombers Trained By Police Today

Trail Three As Ringleaders In Nationwide Bombing Plot

CITIES EVERYWHERE GET BOMB SCARES

Italian Consulates In Many Of Large Cities Are Under Police Guard

(International News Service)
NEW YORK, Jan. 2.—Three New Yorkers were trailed today by police as ringleaders of the vast bomb plot, presumably Anti-fascist in origin, which spread terror through a dozen American cities.

Anxiety was increased when on the heels of the 12 infernal machines mailed to prominent Italians and others in several mid-western and eastern cities, dynamite wrecked the home of an Italian in Trinidad, Colorado, and a suspicious looking package was intercepted by police in New Haven, Conn.

Mails and railway express shipments were carefully scanned by authorities mobilized in the war against the terrorists bent on dealing out death and destruction. Italian diplomats and adherents of Premier Mussolini were especially warned to be on guard against receiving packages which might contain bombs.

Italian consulates in many cities, and offices of Italian language newspapers, remained under police protection today as a precautionary measure.

Bury Bomb Victims

EASTON, Pa., Jan. 2.—With two suspects in custody, who were arrested at Allentown, near here, and then brought to Easton, this city today prepared to bury the first two victims of the bombs plot uncovered at the local post office Wednesday when one of half a dozen infernal machines placed in the mails exploded. The dead, Edward W. Wertheimer and John B. House, will be given Masonic funerals today.

City Employees Give To Mayor's Relief Fund Today

Monthly Donations Are Being Made As Pay Checks Are Distributed

Employees of the City are making their monthly contribution to the Mayor's Relief Fund today, as the city pay checks are distributed at the City Treasurer's Office.

It is expected that the amount received will bring the total close to the $8,000 mark.

The amount in reserve in the fund has been considerably depleted because of the increasing demand for assistance, and it is believed that an accounting will show that more than half the money received to date has been expended for food and clothing.

New City Officials Take Office Monday

Mayor Mayne And Councilmen Hoyland And Davies To Take Oath Of Office

At the city council chamber on Monday morning at ten o'clock Charles B. Mayne will be sworn in as mayor of New Castle, succeeding Mayor W. H. Gillespie, and D. O. Davies and Albert Hoyland will be sworn in as councilmen, succeeding W. T. Burns and Clayton Reeves.

The ceremony will probably be witnessed by a large number of friends of the candidates.

The new council will organize at once, and proceed to take over affairs of the city.

SOME DELAY IN SECURING BONDS

County Commissioners Are Still Deadlocked On Some Appointments

Provided all bonds have been filed newly elected county officials will be sworn into office at 9 o'clock on next Monday morning. There has been considerable delay in the securing of bonds, although it is understood that all have been granted by the bonding companies.

The bonds of County Treasurer Elect, William O. Pitts have been granted, but up until noon today had not yet arrived at the court house. It is believed that they will come this afternoon or Monday morning. If they do not arrive until 9 o'clock Monday, Mr. Pitts cannot be sworn in at that time.

The bond of Elmer Conner, county commissioner elect, had not arrived this morning, but it is expected that it will be ready by Monday morning. Bonds of P. O. Elder and F. R. Woods, county-commissioners elect, have been filed, as have also those of Prothonotary R. M. Campbell, prothonotary, Orville Potter, coroner and R. C. McCaslin, county controller.

To Be Sworn In

Those who will be sworn into office on Monday morning, provided all bonds are in, are as follows:
County Commissioners P. O. Elder, F. R. Woods, and Elmer Conner.
County Treasurer, William O. Pitts.

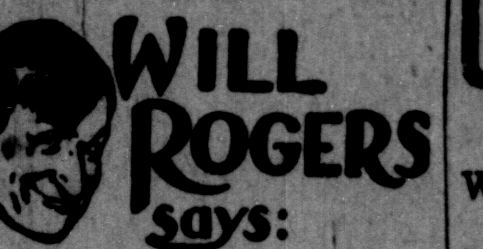

Prothonotary and Clerk of Court, R. M. Campbell.
County Coroner, Orville Potter.

Immediately after the new officials are sworn into office county commissioners will meet for organization, at which time the various appointive offices will be filled.
At preliminary meetings which have been held by the commissioners elect agreement was reached on William A. Eakin for clerk, Attorney (Continued On Page Two)

Twenty-Four In Chicago Killed By Automobiles

Heaviest Traffic Death Toll In Chicago's History Reported Today

(International News Service)
CHICAGO, Jan. 2.—One of the heaviest traffic death tolls in Chicago's history was recorded during the New Year's holiday period, a computation revealed today. Twenty-four lives were sacrificed to the traffic monster in the city and its environs and numerous injuries occurred in accidents. The year just passed established a new record for automobile fatalities which numbered 1,306.

DEEDS ARE DELIVERED FOR POST OFFICE SITE

Announcement was made today that all of the deeds for the tracts of land on the public square, selected as a site for the new postoffice building to be erected in New Castle, have been delivered to the government.
The deeds were turned over, late Thursday, to W. J. Aiken, assistant United States Federal Attorney, at Pittsburgh, by the attorneys for the property owners, who have been looking up the titles during the past few weeks.

Mahatma Gandhi Facing Arrest

British Foreign Office Reports Gandhi Faces Arrest And Deportation

OTHER INDIANS MAY BE ARRESTED

(BULLETIN)
By LINTON WELLS
International News Service Staff Correspondent

LONDON, Jan. 2.—Arrest of Mahatma Gandhi and other Indian Nationalist leaders and their deportation from India is confidently expected by the British Foreign Office before Sunday night.

The Viceroy, Lord Willingdon, arrived at New Delhi by airplane today from Calcutta and immediately went into conference with members of his executive council to study Gandhi's latest threat of civil disobedience.

Will Be Arrested
Lord Willingdon will reply to Gandhi tomorrow, reiterating his refusal to discuss ordinances aimed at suppressing terrorism in Bengal, the United Provinces and the Northwest Province.

Gandhi is expected to reply at once, declaring his new plan of civil disobedience in effect whereupon he will be arrested and deported immediately.

Step Nearer Jail
Bombay, Jan. 2.—Mahatma Gandhi today stood one step nearer a jail term, which he is believed to be seeking, as a result of his latest telegram to the Viceroy, the Earl of Willingdon.

In what bore every semblance of an ultimatum, the aged Nationalist leader reminded the Viceroy he had suggested to his people a campaign of resistance via the civil disobedience plan as an answer to the government's newest ordinances suppressing their activities.

The country was on the verge of a new crisis in its old fight for independence from Britain. An arbitration conference was far from a probability, although the Viceroy (Continued On Page Two)

CITY'S POST OFFICE ON GUARD FOR BOMBS

Warn Mail Clerks Today Against Fatal Outrage That Easton Had

WILL WATCH FOR SUSPICIOUS FOLK

Taking no risk whatsoever of a repetition here of the fatal bombing outrage at the post office at Easton, Pa., Postmaster Edwin W. Crawford today warned window and dispatch clerks at the local office to be on their guard against "suspicious looking persons and questionable packages."

Terms It "Fiendish"
The postmaster took the action immediately on arriving at the building today. He made it understood that New Castle must guard against such "fiendish" perpetrations.

"We want to know it immediately when some suspicious looking packages come into the office," Postmaster Crawford told the clerks. "Local police will be notified." (Continued On Page Two)

Council Plans To Reduce Tax Rate One Mill

Tentative Millage Rate Is Agreed Upon Today As 11 Mills

RATE LAST YEAR WAS 12 MILLS

Reduction Is Made In General Appropriations For City Operation

Tax levy for city purposes during 1932, will be 11 mills, one less than during 1931, according to councilmen and officials-elect who completed this morning the appropriations for next year. The tax levy will be 11 mills and the appropriation budget total $460,000. For 1931, the tax levy was 12 mills and the appropriation budget $517,138.

The millage will be divided as follows: 8 1/4 mills for general revenue; 2 mills for sinking fund and one half mill for the library. During 1931, the division was: 9 1/4 mills for general revenue; 1 1/4 mills for sinking fund and 1/4 mill for the library.

Council decided that the body would meet at two o'clock this afternoon in city hall when ordinances would be submitted designating the appropriation and the tax levy. The ordinances will be passed finally Tuesday.

Agree On Millage
The levy was based on an estimated property valuation of $57,368,430. (Continued On Page Two)

Five Firemen In Tarentum Injured As Trucks Collide

Thousand Dollar Damage When Trucks Collide Answering False Alarm

TARENTUM, Pa., Jan. 2.—A New Year celebrant, with a perverted sense of humor, was sought by police today for turning in the false fire alarm which resulted in injury to five firemen when two fire trucks crashed together at the street intersection where the alarm box is located.

A thousand dollar damage was done to the equipment and the trucks and 25 other firemen riding in them narrowly escaped injury. When the alarm was turned in, the truck of the Highland Hose Company No. 1 and the Summit Hose Company No. 3 truck responded. They collided in front of the alarm box.

Both trucks were manned by volunteer firemen.

Walter Staley 28, was severely bruised when he was thrown from one of the trucks by the force of the impact. He is in the Allegheny hospital here.

Others injured and released after treatment were Melburn Anderson, Alexander Marino, Joseph Biza and William Stahl.

Occupies Chinchow (Copyright, 1932, by International News Service)

MUKDEN, Jan. 2.—The long-heralded Japanese capture of Chinchow was effected today, although occupation of the last Chinese stronghold in Manchuria by Japanese troops actually was an anticlimax to the extensive operations which preceded it.

When an armored trainload of troops and a detachment of cavalry from the Kamura brigade entered the high walls of Chinchow, they found it almost completely deserted of Chinese soldiers, who had been fleeing better shelter for three days. There was virtually no fighting.

Although comparatively few Japanese troops occupied the city, they were backed by well-groomed thousands who were advancing behind them and were ready to strike immediately if there had been the least sign of resistance.

League Is Powerless Geneva, Jan. 2.—Defied by Japan, the League of Nations will make no further efforts to intervene in the Manchurian war.

A league spokesman made this announcement today upon receipt of word that Japanese troops had occupied Chinchow despite representations by the League council, supported by the United States government.

"Further action," he said, "would only result in further impairment of the League's prestige. With none of the principal nations ready to enforce sanctions against Japan we are powerless to act."

NEW OFFICIALS TO BE SWORN IN ON NEXT MONDAY

John P. Lockhart for commissioners attorney; M. B. Hogue for poor director; and T. A. Gilkey for county engineer.

The appointments upon which there does not appear to be an agreement are those of jail physician and sealers of weights and measures.

For jail physician, P. O. Elder proposed the name of Dr. F. E. Eakin, the present incumbent, F. R. Woods the name of Dr. E. H. Wilmarth, and Elmer Conner the name of Dr. H. E. Zerner.

For sealer of weights and measures, Elder proposed the name of W. A. Brown, the present incumbent, Woods the name of Reed English, and Conner the name of L. W. Houk.

The county commissioners, with County Treasurer William O. Pitta, comprise the salary board. After the organization the matter of salaries will be taken up and the decision announced. It is said that there is to be some adjustments in salaries.

BOMBERS MAY BE IN YOUNGSTOWN

One Of Cities Mentioned In Connection With Big Round-up

(International News Service) DETROIT, Jan. 2.—Shifting from New York, investigation of the widespread bombing plot aimed at Italian government representatives in this country moved into the middle west, according to information obtained by International News Service.

Government officials here would disclose no intimation of their findings, but it was learned strong evidence had been uncovered that the outrages were no fanciful schemes of a few lone fanatics but the well planned plot of a band whose agents even now are hiding in several mid-western cities.

Arrests may be made by tonight in Detroit, Youngstown, and Cleveland. The federal investigation for those cities is being directed from here by H. H. Reineke, special agent of the department of justice, but Reineke would not reveal the extent of his investigation.

Special investigators are now working in several other Ohio and Michigan centers of Italian population. Their reports are believed to show that the plotters' agents were stationed in at least Detroit, Youngstown, and Cleveland prepared to renew their depredations if the bomb plot had been successful.

Count Ugo Berni Canani, Italian vice consul here, to whom one bomb was sent, refused Detroit police offers of protection, but despite this it was learned orders have been issued to guard him.

American Stumps Jap Army Chiefs

Asks Japanese Leaders If War Has Been Declared, Gets No Answer

(International News Service) KOUANGTZE, Manchuria, Jan. 2.—Lieut. Harry S. Aldrich, American officer who was detailed by the Japanese here after a locomotive he was riding with three Chinese rolled into no man's land between the Japanese and Chinese armies, today declined a Japanese offer to permit him to return to Peiping via Dairen, because the Japanese insisted on holding the three Chinese.

The Japanese told Aldrich he and the Chinese might reveal military information if permitted to rejoin the Chinese army south of Chinchow.

"That might be the rule if Japan and China were at war," replied Aldrich. "But has Japan declared war? I thought you were insisting you had not."

Aldrich's reply stumped the Japanese military men here. They have appealed to Mukden for further advice.

Poise, Good Delivery Feature Boys' Story-Telling Contest; Louis Turk Wins This Morning

This story-telling business is doing something for the youngsters of New Castle who are now telling their own stories their own way. Having listened to their teachers and to the librarians, a club of young boys is now listening to their own.

If it's poise that you want, you will find it in abundance at any meeting of the Midway Bible Club, now engaged in a story-telling contest at the Y. M. C. A. each Saturday morning. The purpose of the competition among the youngsters, W. A. Thomas, the boys' work director of the association tells, is to select four winners who will compete at a father-son banquet to be held in February.

This morning seven youngsters told their tales, awaited the votes of judges and the other club members and then hoped that their stories would win.

Louis Turk's story won. However, as Bill Thomas said, it was the method of delivery, the poise and the vocabulary of the boy that brought success. Turk's story was: "Behold, the King Cometh," taken from Isaiah 25:9.

The other story tellers were: Charles Pollock, "The Hidden Chests"; Henry Hasson, "How Henry Thought He Was Going to Get Even"; Bobby Hogue, "George Washington's Boyhood"; Kenneth Blanton, "The Mystery Papers"; Roy Denney, "How Jesus Saved Julius' Daughter"; Willis Foster, "Pair of Beads";

Elder Shows He Can Handle All County Business

With Two Men Off, He Does Work And Still Has Some Time To Spare

SHOWS PROPOSED JOB UNNECESSARY

With two county commissioners, T. J. McCullough and Calvin Boyd, off during the past week on account of illness, County Commissioner P. O. Elder, has demonstrated his ability to look after the business of the poor department, and also to attend to all matters that have come up in the county commissioners' office.

Mr. Elder's work in this emergency proves, beyond all doubt, that the proposed creation of a "new job" in the poor department, is unnecessary, and that the addition of another salary to the payroll would be unwarranted.

Taxpayers may well ask why we elect three county commissioners, if one can do the work, or to put it in arithmetical phraseology: If one man can do the work of three men, how much work could three men do—if they worked?

The answer is apparent that three men, "if they worked," could do all the work about the county commissioners' office and the poor board, without the creation of any new jobs.

Last there be some misunderstanding, it may be stated that not all of the county commissioners-elect favor this new job.

There is no question in the minds of any taxpayers but that the county commissioners can attend to the work of the poor department with the aid of the help at present employed.

MAHATMA GANDHI FACING ARREST

was reported to be more favorable toward the idea than when he refused Gandhi's overtures two days ago.

May Be Banished Gandhi is scheduled for banishment to the isolated island of Reunion in the Indian Ocean, where he is to be confined for two years.

For some weeks past British officials on the island have been superintending construction of new huts and renovation of old houses for purposes that can only be conjectured, electricity and modern plumbing are being installed and other steps are being taken of a sort likely designed for the comforts of long term exiles of political importance.

Gandhi's arrest and deportation will be ordered by the Indian government under the broad provisions of article 3 of an ancient and un-repealed law of 1818 which empowers the deportation of anyone whose conduct is believed subversive to good order and tending to incite rebellion.

The appropriations totalled $460,000 and council decided that with a realization of $91,000 receipts from various sources, $369,000, would have to be raised from millage.

The solons decided upon 8 1/2 mills for general revenue and two mills for the sinking fund, which is a raise of 1/4 mill owing to the lack of tax collection. The 1931 millage for library purposes remains at 1/4 mill.

The reduction in appropriations and decreased millage resulted from an approximate 10 percent wage cut of all employees and officials, $8,632 decrease in the cost of illuminating streets, elimination of some positions and decision not to purchase new equipment or make big improvements, as well as general paring down of all appropriations where possible.

R. B. Weakley

Word has been received here today of the death of R. B. Weakley, aged 65, prominent resident of Grove City at the Baseline-Rossman hospital, Grove City, Pa., on New Years day about four o'clock as a result of a stroke suffered twenty-four hours previously.

He had been in the hotel and restaurant business for twenty years and was widely known throughout Mercer county and the surrounding districts also in this city, where he had many friends.

Surviving him are his wife, two brothers, Calvin Weakley of Okla-homa City and Harlan Weakley of Chicago; and two sisters Mrs. Harriet Brown of Minneapolis, Minn., and Mrs. Frances Bennett of Youngstown.

T. C. Armstrong of Croton avenue and T. L. McCoy of 112 Euclid avenue are cousins of the deceased. He was a member of the Knights of Pythias, Elks and the Methodist church. He was a Republican in politics.

Funeral services will be held Monday January 4, 1932 at 2 p. m. from the residence in Grove City with Dr. C. E. Petree, pastor of the Methodist church of that place in charge. Interment will be made at Grove City.

At Easton last Wednesday an exploding bomb wrought death and damage, three men having died so far. Others were injured. The post office itself was damaged considerably.

While the local office has been notified that federal, state and local authorities are close on the trail of the bombers, Postmaster Crawford deemed it urgent to warn the clerks of any possible outrage here. The dynamite laden packages which hurried their death-dealing force as they were being dispatched in the Easton office were addressed to prominent Italian-Americans in several large cities.

"We have no way to protect ourselves against plotters of this sort," it was pointed out by the postmaster. "We must do the best we can and watch out."

SWEDEN COULD MAKE GAS

(International News Service) STOCKHOLM.—By mixing native wood alcohol with imported gasoline, Swedish motorists could save from 53 to 55 million liters of gasoline a year, the Swedish Academy of Engineering Science has reported to the Royal Board of Trade. While 8,000,000 liters of wood alcohol are used as motor fuel, Sweden could produce from 35 to 45 liters from native sources, chiefly as a by-product of the pulp mills.

DR. AND MRS. FLETCHER ENTERTAIN AT DINNER

Among the many family dinners held about the city Friday that in the home of Dr. and Mrs. T. J. Fletcher, Delaware avenue, held a double significance, as it was the annual family gathering of thirty-two relatives and it also marked the seventy-ninth anniversary of the birth of Mrs. Susanna Magee, grandmother of Mrs. Fletcher.

The tables were laid in the dining room and were attractively decorated with centerpieces of chrysanthemums and tall matching tapers.

Places were arranged for Mrs. Susanna Magee, Mr. and Mrs. George Waxenfelder, parents of the hostess; Mr. and Mrs. William Fletcher, daughter, Marie, and grandson, William; Jim Hill, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Criswell and daughter, Pat, all of this city, and from out of town were William Alexander and daughter, Susanna, and Mr. and Mrs. William Alexander, Jr., and children, Billy and Kathryn of Pittsburgh.

During the afternoon hours, which were spent informally, Joe, the small son of the hosts, entertained with a number of readings.

WOMAN'S CLUB TO MEET MONDAY

Now that the holiday season has come to an end the various clubs of the city will settle down to their programs of 1932 and Monday afternoon the members of the Woman's club will begin the year with a program which will review 1931.

Mrs. J. Norman Martin will take up "The Best Sellers" of the year; Mrs. D. C. Lindley will discuss "The Best Plays"; Mrs. S. D. Pearson will talk of "The Best Films" and Dr. David Papp will explain "New Things in Science."

Mrs. W. A. Pond and Mrs. Ira Ramsey will be the ushers of the afternoon.

Birthday Honored

Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Hasfurter, West North street, entertained approximately 40 guests in their home on a recent evening, in celebration of the birthday anniversary of Ruth Reese. Music and dancing were the pastimes, and at a suitable hour, lunch was served. The hostess was assisted by Mrs. Lydia Green and Mrs. Grace Jacobs.

The honored one was presented with many nice gifts in memento of the occasion.

A number of those who participated, were from Youngstown, O.

Dinner At Agnew's

Mrs. Laura J. Agnew entertained for ten guests at a prettily appointed 6 o'clock dinner in her Highland avenue home on New Year's night. Appointments were carried out in the yuletide color tones.

After dinner, the group enjoyed radio music and social chat.

BARNES-MOTT WEDDING FRIDAY

The marriage of Mrs. Jessie Barnes, Beckford street and O. D. Mott, Ryan avenue, both of New Castle, was performed on Friday evening, January 1, at 8 o'clock at the home of the latter's brother A. C. Mott at Towanda, Bradford county.

The nuptials were read in the presence of a gathering of relatives and close friends of the couple and following the ceremony, Mr. and Mrs. Mott left for a wedding trip, their destination which was unannounced.

They will be home to their friends at 916 Ryan avenue, this city, sometime the middle of January.

FAMILY DINNER AT GILMORE RESIDENCE

New Year's day was fittingly observed at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. G. Gilmore, Harrison street, when they entertained members of their family and a few close friends at a dinner party in their home last evening. Covers marked for 23 guests at a table prettily arranged in the seasons tones. A delicious menu, consisting of many tasty dishes, was served by the hostess, assisted by her daughter-in-laws, Mrs. W. C. Gilmore and Mrs. W. H. Gilmore at 6 o'clock.

At the conclusion of the feature, the guests adjourned to the parlor, where the balance of the social period was spent informally with cards and games of various kinds.

Bon-Homie Club Meets

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Kirchner of King avenue, received the Bon-Homie club members in their home Thursday evening for a social time. Tables of 500 formed the chief diversion, with prizes for honors being awarded to E. L. Young and Mr. and Mrs. Earl Bishop.

At a late hour, the hostess served a delicious collation, the menu and table appointments being in keeping with the holiday season. Special guests of the occasion included Mrs. Alice Wilson, Mr. and Mrs. R. Beals, and Mr. and Mrs. Sontum. The Sontum's and Mrs. Wilson were given the guest token at the close of the evening.

Adjournment followed, and on Friday, January 15 the club will be entertained at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Tom McCracken, Walnut street.

Quaquequa Club

Mrs. J. L. Ringer of Ray street entertained the Quaquequa club members in her home on a recent evening for their usual social session. Cards occupied the attention of the guests and prizes were awarded to Mrs. C. C. McKibben and Mrs. W. D. Stewart at the close of play.

Lunch was served at a late hour by the hostess, assisted by Mrs. George A. Patterson and Mrs. McKibben, who was a special guest of the evening.

The next meeting will take place on Wednesday, January 13, with Mrs. Louis Rudesill on West Grant street.

H. G. L. Girls' Club

Mrs. Claude Norris of Arlington avenue received the H. G. L. Girls' Club in her home Friday evening, with Miss Irene Williams acting as associate hostess. The hours were spent informally with games and music, and later a dainty lunch was served by the hostesses. The seasons trimmings were used in the appointments. Covers marked places for six guests.

In two weeks, Miss Elizabeth Richards of Maryland avenue will be club hostess.

HAYDON HOME SCENE OF NEW YEARS PARTY

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Haydon of 22½ North Mill street proved themselves successful hosts Friday evening when they received members of the Tuesday Kensington and their husbands for a New Year's party.

The occasion was featured with the serving of a most delectable turkey menu at 7 o'clock by the hostess, assisted by her committee, namely: Mrs. Daniel Kennedy, Mrs. Carry Davis, Mrs. N. L. Gardner and Mrs. William Eakin. The table was beautiful with its various novel ornaments, suggestive of the season, and the center was graced with a bouquet of choice flowers, flanked with tall tapers tied with bows of maline.

At the conclusion of this part of the program, the guests participated in a round of games, stunts and contests in charge of Mrs. J. Q. Roberts and Mrs. E. U. Snyder, which caused a riot of fun. This concluded the evening's events.

Special guests present were Betty Kennedy and Paul Weller, Jr.

The next regular session of the club will be held on Tuesday, January 19, at the home of Mrs. Daniel Kennedy on Blaine street. This gathering will be in the form of a 1 o'clock luncheon.

House Guests Honored

A delightful party of Thursday evening was that given by Mr. and Mrs. Joe Wilkins and Mr. and Mrs. Evan Wilkins, who reside on North street, when the entertained jointly a group of friends in their home at a New Year's eve party, as a courtesy to Mr. and Mrs. Martin Norris of Whiting, Ind., who have been spending the holidays with friends here.

The hours were whiled away with games and music, and at 12 o'clock, midnight, the guests were ushered into the spacious dining room where they were served a delectable turkey menu. The table was beautifully decorated for the occasion in tones expressive of the present season.

Later, little Gloria Pauline favored the group with a novel reading when Miss Wilkins entertained with a selected recitation, both being well received.

Entertains Club

Miss Mary Elizabeth Suber was a charming hostess Thursday evening when she entertained the members of the E. L. club at a New Year's party in her home on Bell avenue.

The home was prettily decorated for the event and the girls played indoor golf, bingo and other games during the evening, ending with a treasure hunt, which led them all through the house, with clues placed in out of the way places.

Prizes for the evening were won by Ned Horton, Martha Alexander and Dot Keely. As the old year faded into oblivion the hostess' mother invited the group to the dining room, where an attractive table was laid, with red and white as the predominating colors in the flowers and appointments. Each place was marked by a New Year's resolution, and a delicious menu of refreshments was served.

January 14 the girls will meet with Dot Keely, Park avenue.

New Years Dinner

A pleasant New Years gathering was that at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Wellhausen, R. D. 1, when they entertained at a one o'clock dinner Friday.

OUR LAUDABLE RECORD

IN THE annual summing up of the cases of violent death in Lawrence county during the past year as given by County Coroner J. P. Caldwell, the striking fact is revealed that the year 1931 goes down in local history as one without a murder.

While there is no valid reason for any murder record in Lawrence county at any time, it has usually been the case that a year's summary showed five or six at least, and some of them crimes that were sensational.

Just what occasioned the reversal of form on the part of the Lawrence county populace, and strangers who came into the county, during the past year, would offer no end of conjecture. Maybe the depression was the cause. Maybe the new law regarding carrying of firearms had something to do with it. Maybe the supply of bootleg liquor was harder to get. And maybe—well, we could go on for some time in this vein.

It should be said in passing, however, that while there have been murder sensations here in recent years that attracted widespread attention, almost invariably they were perpetuated by persons outside of Lawrence county, who in no sense could be regarded as local residents and whose crimes could not rightly be charged to the peaceable inhabitants of the county. Witness the Dague-Schroeder killing of the state highway patrolman, or the double murder by a Cleveland who shot his wife and companion in an auto along the New Bedford highway.

Certain it is that there is commendation due the record in Lawrence county during the past year, and it is our earnest hope that the record be continued indefinitely.

DIVORCE BY MAIL IS THE LATEST

It is announced that a New York theatrical performer is the first person in this country to take advantage of the new "get-divorced-quickly" law of Mexico. It was obtained in six days and came to the lady by air mail. She was divorced on the ground of incompatibility and did not go to Mexico.

The new law requires no residence, and, in cases of mutual consent, it takes only the time required for an airplane to go to and from Mexico, with the addition of about twenty-four hours for formalities and fees in Chihuahua City. If consent is not mutual and one party has to be served by publication of notice it takes a few days longer. How distressing!

The attorney who acted in this particular divorce case gleefully announces that the Chihuahua law "is the last word in expedition." Compared with it the Reno procedure is troublesome and long drawn out. To many—too many—this will be a cause for rejoicing. It is an age when the obligations of matrimony sit lightly on a considerable number of people. It is becoming a mark of distinction to be divorced. Those who get decrees proudly announce that they have "won their freedom." They give parties to celebrate the joyous event. In a little while they marry again and this is followed by another divorce. In accounts of weddings in Hollywood we read that "this is the fourth marriage for the groom" and "the third for the bride." Former mates, mingling in the same society, flippantly say they are "still good pals."

The truth is that our boasted civilization is beginning to get rotten at the core. The proof of that lies in the fact that only a proportion of our people now believe in the sanctity of marriage. To most of them it is a yoke to be thrown off when it becomes the least bit burdensome. They are utterly selfish about it, and the thought of making the slightest sacrifice for the sake of children or of society would seem perfectly absurd. The surprising part of it is that many who treat a marriage certificate as a mere scrap of paper would be shocked if anyone tried to violate a business contract by use of the shady means now used in separating man and wife. The saddest part of all is the wrecking of the homes of the land. It is no mere platitude to say that the home is the foundation of civilized society; and if the undermining of that institution continues we know what to expect.

CUTTING DOWN MUNICIPAL EXPENSE

New Castle councilmen and councilmen-elect in the sessions of the week, preparing the budget for the year, have spent a lot of time in paring down the budget, and providing for economies here and there, in an effort to provide for a reduction of the tax millage for city purposes. All of which will certainly meet with the commendation of the great mass of citizens who are called on to meet the assessments of taxes for city operation.

The same measure of foresight and economy will also have to be extended to the county, and to the school system operation. Present conditions are such that there should be no tax assessment for any city, school or county operation expenses other than at the most economical figure possible.

The finding by excavators of a towel left in a Roman bath in Caesar's time is remarkable as showing the great progress of civilization. A modern would have added it to his Pullman and hotel collection.

Perhaps that lovelorn young man, who asked if it was love when a man grew hot and cold in the presence of his girl, was standing under one of those fickle shower baths.

The latest George Washington yarn to the effect that he invented ice cream ought to prove ever more popular than the cherry tree story.

One practical way congressmen could economize is by thumbing their way between their homes and Washington to save mileage.

If there is anything worse than a new congressman's borrowed speech it is something original by the same congressman.

Just because you did not get your usual umbrella for Christmas doesn't mean it ain't goin' to rain no more.

A congressman's idea of governmental economy is reducing another congressman's pet appropriation.

If the grave is more than a century old, the despoiler is an archaeologist; if new, he is a grave robber.

If the next war is to be controlled by radio, America can croon her enemies to death.

The South wanted rain and now that it has water it doesn't know what to do with it.

If I Had My "Druthers"
Would I Do What I Think?
Would You?

By MARSHALL MASLIN
If I had my Druthers I'd never worry about anything at all.

If I had 'em maybe I'd quit my job.

If I had 'em I might not ever write another line; I wouldn't let any empty space in a newspaper make ME work when I didn't feel like it; I'd be my own boss. Yes, I would.

If I had my Druthers I'd travel. I'd fix up a little home comfortably, just so I'd have a place to be coming back to again—and then I'd go far, far away from here.

That's what I'd do. I'd see all this country of ours. I'd stare into the Grand Canyon and make the usual remarks. I'd see Niagara again. I'd see the fireflies once more in Pennsylvania. I'd take a motor trip all through New England in the fall and see the brilliant leaves. I'd go to Ohio, and I'd visit Chicago; and I'd make sure to be in New Orleans in Mardi Gras week. I'd see Kansas and Vermont and Montana. I'd go everywhere that people talk about going. I'd eat in all the famous restaurants. I'd see all the shows.

If I had my Druthers I'd go where the kangaroo jumps over the land. I'd see the monkeys swinging freely in the Indian trees. I'd see the wild mountain goats and the tiger that lashes his tail, and the pygmy men of Africa. I'd smell the odors of the east and the perfume of Arab, and feel the sand blast of the Sahara on my cheek.

I'd see the snake dances of Arizona and the butter sculptures of Tibet, stare down the bloody Khyber Pass and up at the white majesty of the Alps.

I'd go places and see things, the glory that was Greece, the grandeur that was Rome, the Walling Wall of Palestine, the ox-blood tomb of Napoleon, the green grass growing over battlefields I used to know—if only I had my Druthers.

And if I had my Druthers I'd have just as much money as I ought to have and not a cent more. If I had my Druthers I'd get bored and weary and homesick. I'd wonder what my friends were doing. I'd wish, perhaps, that I had my job back again, wish I had those duties and responsibilities that once were mine.

If I had all my Druthers maybe I wouldn't like it so much, after all. And maybe it's just as well that I HAVEN'T got my Druthers.

When support is given to either person an unfavorable spirit, a certain antagonism is aroused in the one who lacks support.

The husband or wife may be commanding, dictatorial, unreasonable. A guest may feel that one or the other is not having a square deal. There may be a desire to come to the aid of all my Druthers maybe I wouldn't like it so much, after all. And maybe it's just as well that I HAVEN'T got my Druthers.

Hints and Dints

Sun sets tonight 4:43. Sun rises tomorrow 7:25.

In some places the poor board is refusing applicants for aid cigars, cigarettes, tobacco, beer, near beer, soda water, candy, pies and cakes. Those things were absolute necessities only a short time ago, comrades.

Campaign promises are easy to make but sometimes hard to fulfill, especially when a candidate promises the same job to several different persons.

If Noah Had Lived in These Times He Would Have Gotten More Out of His Trip In The Ark Because He Would Have Taken Along a Group of Big City News Hounds.

They call it the poor department up at the court house—not a bad name at that.

There are a lot of people who hear so much about the poor and needy they think they are poor and needy themselves and act accordingly.

Out in Chicago There Is a Nervous Ballet Waiting For the Fellow Who Knows Too Much.

If county commissioners create a new job in the poor department, and their own office is filled up with clerks, they are going to have a hard time finding a place to loaf.

A young lady who says she is fancy free but would like to get married asks us the kind of a man who would make her a good husband. We do not even know who she is but we know she is running a terrible risk in getting married to any kind of a man. She ought to be satisfied with being fancy free as that must be a delightful sensation, far better than being married to some worthless lout.

A Dietician Explains That Eating Onions Is the Secret Of Health. Eating Onions A Secret? Omygosh!

THERE'S A WAY Elbert Hubbard's definition of business is "The Science of Human Service."

A friend of mine has just told me of a tire salesman who came in the office, and said, "Mr. Blank, I have just noticed your car, license No. 50 and so, parked up on St. Paul Place. Your two rear tires, Mr. Blank, are badly worn and need replacement. I'm sure you realize the embarrassment and inconvenience of having those tires go bad on you right in the middle of an important business trip, or, perhaps, on your way to a social engagement, when you are in evening clothes. I know you will soon buy tires somewhere, and I'd like to take your car, have the new tires put on, allowing you credit for the old ones, right now, and save you a possible embarrassing situation."

That salesman had gone to a lot of trouble to find out the name of the owner of the car bearing that license number. But he was rewarded, because the owner of the car was so impressed by the evident spirit of service on the part of this tire salesman that he gave him the order for new tires.

That's an example of mixing brains with effort, and really performing a service. It is our idea of business service.

While candidates are running for office they try to impress taxpayers with their fitness for responsibilities. After they get it, some of them would shift responsibilities to others and do nothing but draw their salaries.

When the word "bozo" is mentioned in this column we do not have to mention any names. Those it is meant for recognize it at once and squawk accordingly.

When Some Anarchists Leave New Castle Some People Will Be Grateful Enough to Send Them a Cablegram to Russia Collect.

It might be well for candidates to carry a note book in which they could jot down all the fool promises they make—then they wouldn't suffer so much embarrassment later.

Commissioners who favor the creation of a new job in the poor department, are going to hear from taxpayers. Already the aforesaid taxpayers are gathering up their tar buckets.

WE REPEAT IT QUOTH FRED RENTZ, The New Castle super-publisher:

I must be hateful by nature. When something bad happens to people I don't like, I don't pretend to believe the Lord is punishing them; and when they are bowed down by sorrow I feel sorry for them and wish I could help. But when people do me some ill turn and later suffer some minor misfortune, I usually think to myself: "Fair enough! That's what you had coming to you." And I never reach the point where I enjoy trading with them. Some years ago a fellow got 600 of my hard-earned money, and when he broke an arm some months later and lost a bunch of money in real estate, I had a feeling that the account was being squared. Another fellow got 400 of my money and I felt a glow of satisfaction later when he lost his reputation and his living. From John L. Morrison's Greenville Record-Argus.

Hope Wanes For Finding Body Of Missing Airman

Rumor That Plane And Body
Are Found Proves False
In West Virginia

HAS BEEN MISSING
SINCE CHRISTMAS

Thick Undergrowth Makes Matter Of Finding
Lieut. E. H. Bobbitt Difficult

(International News Service)
ELKINS, W. Va., Jan. 2.—Hope of finding Lieut. E. H. Bobbitt, missing army flier, which was buoyed up by persistent rumors that his body and crashed plane were found, sank today when the rumors were found false.

After an all-night search by woodsmen, the reports that Bobbitt was found on the west side of East mountain in an isolated wilderness near Sully in Pendleton county were proven unfounded.

Hope Abandoned.
All hope of finding the missing flier alive has been abandoned. The search has settled to a routine but dogged hunt for the body and his crashed plane. Snow hampers land searching parties in the mountains and the undergrowth is so thick that it would be possible for the hunters to pass within 25 feet of Bobbitt's body without detecting it. Bobbitt disappeared the day before Christmas while enroute from Selfridge field, Mich., to his home at Hot Springs, Va. He hopped off from Uniontown, Pa., never to be heard from again. He was believed forced down in this region, one of the most desolate in all of West Virginia's mountains.

Chicago Will Ask Democrats Select City For Sessions

Chicago Already Has Republi-

Want Democrats

(International News Service)
CHICAGO, Jan. 2.—Mayor Anton J. Cermak local Democratic leaders, and city and county officials will go to Washington next Thursday to try to bring the National Democratic convention to Chicago. It was announced at City Hall today.

Mayor Cermak stated that with Chicago already agreed upon by the Republicans, he believed the local delegation would have little trouble convincing the Democratic National Committee that that party's convention also should take place.

TAX EVADERS ARE NOW BEING CAUGHT

By ROBERT S. THORNBURGH
International News Service Staff

WASHINGTON, Jan. 2.—Forces of the federal government will continue their vigorous drive against income tax violators—gangsters and others—throughout the United States during the coming year.

Treasury officials said today that a tremendous volume of evidence had been gathered in the past eighteen months of concentration against these law violators. This data undoubtedly would be productive of the filing of formal charges in the next few months, they added.

Efforts of the federal authorities again will be concentrated in Chicago, New York, Pittsburgh and other cities. Chicago will be the chief stage for the drive against tax evading gangsters. Unscrupulous politicians, public officials and other grafters will feel the strength of the government's hand in other centers.

Year Is Pivotal.
The past year has been a highly productive one in the income tax drive. Among the Chicago gangsters convicted or entering pleas of guilty for tax evasion are the notorious Al Capone, chief of the Windy City underworld, Ralph Capone, his brother, Jack Quinn, Jack Guzik, Sam Guzik, Frank Nitti, Terry Druggan and Frank Lake.

Ralph Capone is now behind the bars for a three year term at McNeill Island federal prison and Al, the "Big Shot" is facing a long term. His case is pending on appeal. In addition to the criminal prosecution of "Scarface Al" the treasury has levied on all of his available property and intends to collect a million dollars or more in back taxes and penalties.

The criminal features of the gangster drive have been in charge of Elmer L. Irey, chief of the special intelligence section of the internal revenue bureau, recognized as one of the government's most effective law enforcement agents.

Police Capture Two Thugs
Who Were Posing As Desperate Gunmen

(International News Service)
BOSTON, Jan. 2.—Two thugs, posing as desperate gunmen, created a reign of terror in city hospital today before they were captured.

A gate keeper was beaten in a futile attempt by the thugs to loot safes containing the valuables of patients.

The institution's store of radium was almost within the reach of the pair as was the drug supply.

A police squad, chased the thugs through several wards. Finally arrested near a window from which they were about to leap, the prisoners gave these names: James Duzons and Michael Carr.

GARDENS FOR THE POOR
(International News Service)
ST. LOUIS, Jan. 2.—Applications for garden plots in two tracts of land are now being received from local residents, who wish to cultivate and raise their own food next year.

The gardens, sponsored by the city, are principally for the benefit of families in distress. The plots will be laid out 30 by 60 feet and free farming rights will be granted to accepted applicants. No rent will be charged the gardeners, and the tenants will be furnished seeds, plants and other necessary equipment free of charge.

NEW COURT RULES

City Prepares To Pay Weights Sealer

Mayor-elect Charles Mayne during an informal session with council, during budget preparation yesterday declared emphatically that the sealer of weights and inspector of measures must be a resident of New Castle.

With that in mind he requested council to designate $1,200 for the salary of a sealer and inspector, to be paid, providing county commissioners refuse to agree to the city man.

It had been planned that the city would pay $1,050 toward a $2,100 salary if the city and county jointly name the sealer but the county it is said, wants to give the job to a county man.

Will Abolish Post As Police Captain
Salary Of Officer Will Be Cut From Captain To Patrolman
Position as captain of police will be abolished when Charles Mayne becomes mayor, he stated yesterday and J. E. Elder, captain will be paid at the rate of a patrolman instead of as a captain. Past State Grange Master To Conduct Meetings In County

Will Rededicate One Grange Hall And Install Officers Of Two Others

During the coming week, the granges of the county will be honored by the presence of W. F. Hill, past state grange master, of Huntingdon county, one of the outstanding leaders in the existence of the Pennsylvania State Grange. He was master of the state grange from 1898 to 1908 and during the administration of President Theodore Roosevelt was considered of such prominence in agricultural affairs of the country, that he was designated by the president to represent this country at an agricultural convention held in Rome, Italy.

His visit here for three days during the coming week is to assist several local granges in important work of the several granges to be visited. On Monday evening, he will install the officers of Liberty grange, Tuesday evening he will rededicate the Big Beaver grange hall, which has been enlarged and improved. The original hall constructed fifteen years ago, was originally dedicated by State Master John McSparran. This affair will be open to the public.

Wednesday evening, he will install the officers of North Beaver grange at the grange hall, which is near Moravia. This meeting will also be open to the public.

Refuse Americans Right To Land In Panama Canal Zone

Three Americans Lacking $500 Refused Right To Remain
(International News Service)
COLON, P. C., Jan. 2.—Three Americans, all of New York, today were denied permission to land in the Canal Zone because they did not have the $500 necessary under the new immigration law.

They are being held in quarantine at Balboa, at the Atlantic end of the canal, and will be shipped back to New York as soon as possible.

The three are Maurice Martin and Linnine Bray. In ordering deportation of the Americans, authorities warned others contemplating landing in the Canal one to have the amount specified in the new immigration law.

Cut 10 Per Cent Off Already Sliced Pay
Engineer And Solicitor To Be Hard Hit If Council Action Applies To Them
City Solicitor Robert White and Municipal Engineer Frank Miller will be heaviest hit of city officials by the wage reduction plan of council which has been preparing the 1932 budget, if the action taken Thursday applies to them.

Recently $800 was taken from the pay of the solicitor and an equal amount from the wage of the municipal engineer.

They had been elected for a four-year term which expires May 1 at the rate of $300 a month.

Owing to the ordinance which designates their term and office the cut cannot be effective until May 1.

After that they will be paid at the rate of less than $3,000 a year as council yesterday added another 10 per cent cut to both jobs.

This will leave the rate, according to council, at $2,700 a year, unless the action is changed.

For the first four months of 1932 they will draw $300 each which is at the rate of $3,600.

After May 1 they will be paid at the rate of $2,700 per year if the 10 per cent is effective, or $225 a month.

Four months at $300 and eight months salary at $225, will give the solicitor and engineer each a 1932 pay of $3,000.

Railroad Units Are Now Linked

PITTSBURGH, Pa., Jan. 2.—The Buffalo-Rochester district of the Baltimore & Ohio railroad, composed of the Buffalo, Rochester & Susquehanna railroad and the portion of the Baltimore & Ohio Pittsburgh division now known and operated as the northern sub-division, was established yesterday. It was announced by Daniel Willard, president of the Baltimore & Ohio Railroad Company.

Trades Assembly Gives Dinner To Many Children

Ladies Of The Union Label League Prepare And Serve The Dinner

One of the most delightful affairs in the history of the Trades and Labor Assembly and the Women's Union Label League was the dinner and entertainment given in Trades and Labor Assembly Hall on New Year's day at 1 p. m. to a hundred and twenty-five boys and girls of the less fortunate families of the city. The boys and girls were served a bounteous repast by the ladies of the Union Label League, who prepared the dinner on behalf of the Trades and Labor Assembly. All were there by ticket, which had been presented in each instance, when investigation had shown the need for the occasion.

The tables were prettily decorated for the occasion. The feast provided for the occasion included roast beef, mashed potatoes, gravy, creamed peas and carrots, decorative vegetables, salad of lettuce, celery, cabbage, sweet red peppers with salad dressing, bread, butter, milk, ice cream and cake.

Following the dinner a very interesting program of a varied nature was presented. The program included the following numbers, which were presented in a most excellent manner:

The program—Song, Sonny Truby; three xylophone numbers by Miss Ruth Phillips; acrobatic dance, Dorothy Truby; tap dance, Ruth Phillips. The numbers by Dorothy Truby and Ruth Phillips were directed by Miss Nellie Brady, who also acted as accompanist.

William Haney then addressed the entire group present as the representative of A. G. Skundor, president of the Trades and Labor Assembly, who was unable to be present.

The children were all given popcorn balls, candy and apples. They were then marched in a body to the Penn Theatre, where they were entertained as the guests of the Trades and Labor Assembly.

The committees of the Trades and Labor Assembly and the Women's Union Label League consider this to have been a very successful affair and take this opportunity of thanking each and every one, who assisted in making it so. They also wish to take the opportunity to thank the children for the nice and orderly manner in which they conducted themselves.

They also, with the officers and members of the New Castle Trades and Labor Assembly, which helped to make the affair a success, take this opportunity of wishing everyone in New Castle and Lawrence county a happy and prosperous 1932. The above words of appreciation and good will were issued through Mrs. A. G. Skundor, who played a leading part in the affair.

Hoover Gives Breakfast To First Guests

Four Men Earliest To Stand In Rain At Gate Invited Into White House

3,060 Hands Are Shaken—Diplomatic Pomp Thrills Peggy Ann And Peter

WASHINGTON, Jan. 2.—Four "early birds" who braved a pouring rain to stand long before daylight, at the White House gate, were rewarded New Year's Day with a breakfast invitation from President Hoover.

Hours before diplomats from around the world, the highest officials of the government and members of various organizations were to file past the president and Mrs. Hoover to wish them a "Happy New Year" with a handshake, the four formed their own line.

In fact, so keen was the competition to be first that William L. Wilson of Holyoke, Mass., and C. C. Kafer, Dallas, Tex., both employed here by the government, arrived one hour after midnight.

Martin J. Bredvold of Minneapolis took up his post about 5 a. m., followed by H. Walter Barrows, 14, the son of a Seventh Day Adventist missionary from Shanghai, China.

Invited To Have Coffee. Just at daylight came their invitation. Following a White House policeman they entered the basement of the executive mansion, there to be greeted first by the president's aids and then the chief executive himself with a "good morning, Happy New Year to you."

After a handshake, Mr. Hoover said: "Stay here a minute and have some coffee."

But they received more than that. Bredvold described the breakfast, eaten outside the White House kitchen near a room in which the president and his early morning medicine ball cabinet were breakfasting, as consisting of fried eggs and bacon, rolls and corn muffins and "some awfully good coffee."

While they ate, J. W. Hunfeld, a local painter, declined to join them, saying he wished to retain his place at the iron gridded White House gate, where, he added, he had been first in line for the White House receptions for the past five years.

INDUCTION IN WEEK. Newly chosen to serve the New Castle Chapter No. 87, Order of Alpha, new officers of the organization for 1932 will assume their duties at a formal induction ceremony in the Modern Woodmen of America hall, downtown, on Sunday afternoon, January 10.

Auto Crashes Into Fast B. & O. Train

Crew Of Train Apparently Unaware Of Accident At Akron, Ohio

AKRON, O., Jan. 2.—One man was killed and two women and a man were injured Friday when the automobile in which they were riding crashed into the side of the Pittsburgh Limited at the E. Miller avenue crossing of the Baltimore & Ohio railroad, bringing the number of casualties in holiday traffic here to one dead and 13 hurt.

Three persons received minor injuries when a small coach collided with an Akron, Canton & Youngstown switch engine at the N. Main street crossing. Two of the injured were Clevelanders.

All of the crashes were attributed by police to wet pavements and the all-day driving rain.

The B. & O. limited flashed by without stopping and apparently without anyone on the all-Pullman train having been aware of the crash in which the large sedan driven by Luther Love, 43, of 1083 Kenmore boulevard, was demolished and Edward Slens, 36, of 671 East avenue was killed.

Love's wife, Mrs. Martha Love, 40, and Mrs. Alice Gale, 34, of 2302 S. 12th street, were taken to hospitals by Richard Bayon, 432 1/2 S. Main street.

Chinese Statesman For Second Time Is Threatened By Death

T. V. Soong, Former Finance Minister Escapes Bombing Plot In Shanghai

(International News Service) SHANGHAI, Jan. 2.—A second attempt to assassinate T. V. Soong, former finance minister and one of the leading statesmen of China, was foiled today.

A young gardener discovered a powerful bomb in the back yard of Soong's dwelling here, which exploded when he picked it up, seriously injuring the boy. Soong had moved to the French concession three days ago.

Wets Pile Up Big Lead In Finland

Lead Almost Three To One In Vote To Repeal Prohibition

(International News Service) HELSINKI, Finland, Jan. 2.—With the three to one wet lead being only slightly diminished as returns began trickling in from the rural districts, wets continued jubilant today as the country's dryest districts were shown to have voted at least 60 per cent against prohibition in the national referendum.

Returns from 1,420 out of the total of 3,680 districts gave the wets 343,800 votes, as against 119,768 for prohibition. There were 6,029 votes cast for light wines and beer. This represented slightly less than half of the total votes cast.

The Aland Islands, where bootleggers have carried out most of their shipping activities, voted 98.5 per cent wet, according to present returns.

Some News, Some Views, But Mostly Just Observations Of Interesting Things Around New Castle

Now that the Happy New Year's have been swapped, and the usual holiday dyspepsia is beginning to ease up, the next thing to do seems to be to take down the wreaths and the lights and try to get the ground candy and pop corn out of the parlor carpet.

Another couple of days and the kids will all be back in school, the coal pile will have to be replenished, the bills for the Christmas gifts have to be paid and we get back on an even keel again.

Although that new road from Wilmington to Mercer has been laid for some time, we never got a chance to try it out until yesterday and you probably know what an improvement it is over the old road. Young mountains have been obliterated to ordinary size and the roller coaster effects have been ironed smooth.

Time was when a farmer could leave Mercer with a car load of milk and by the time he had bumped into New Wilmington he had his butter all churned and ready for sale. The road was a dry weather one, for rain or snow made it a dangerous artery of travel. Now it ranks as one of the best roads in this district and cuts off many miles between New Castle and Mercer or Greenville.

One of the neighbors included in his list of resolutions one that would end his losing his temper quickly. The resolution cracked up early last night. A low beam in the cellar, no light, a crack on the head and the resolution curled up like a celluloid cuff.

Among the New Year's resolutions which have been reported to this department, Homer C. Drake (the Lexicographer), resolves to be more careful with his infinitives. . . . West-Davy, to catch only fish that have no whiskers. . . . George Muse, to make no free speeches. . . . Hughey Haddon, to cut out his habit of yodeling at his meals. . . . F. M. Rowland, to raise the best roses in the county. . . . Fred Lee, to town T-bone steaks to one per meal.

Perhaps you have noticed, but Wilmington avenue is in a lot better shape since the State Highway forces filled up a lot of those depressions with that chewing gum compound they use. May be they will start on East Washington street next.

The Westminster fans are trying to be modest today after that shel-lacking their team gave Monmouth last night. Monmouth may have a fast team out in Illinois, but the Western Pennsylvania air must be against them.

McKeesport Youth Smothers To Death

Avalanche Of Dirt And Stones Buries Three Youths, Two Are Rescued

(International News Service) MCKEESPORT, Pa., Jan. 2.—New Year's Day brought only death and sorrow into the home of the parents of Anthony Martinez, 10, while the hand of death nearly touched two other families.

Anthony and two playmates, Edward Kamyk, 7, and George Salopek, 9, were playing on a retaining wall in the rear of his home when the barrier gave away.

An avalanche of dirt and stones buried the three lads. Kamyk managed to extricate himself and summoned help.

When firemen and police arrived, they rescued Salopek after a half hour's work. He was still alive although he had been completely covered by the landslide.

Anthony was dead when they reached him. Funeral arrangements for him were to be announced today.

Thirty Alleged Kidnapers Held

Concentrated Drive In Chicago On Alleged Kidnaping Ring

TWELVE BEING HELD ARE WOMEN

(International News Service) CHICAGO, Jan. 2.—In a concentrated drive to wipe out a gigantic kidnaping syndicate whose activities spread over wide sections of the middle west, investigators for the state's attorney today had 30 suspects in custody.

Twelve of the suspected members of the huge abduction organization are women, it was revealed by Pat Roche, chief investigator for the state's attorney. Roche directed the campaign which resulted in the arrests.

Five Confess The prisoners were being held incommunicado in several heavily-guarded suites of the Congress Hotel. They were rounded up in raids in Chicago, St. Louis, and Peoria, Ill., the chief investigator disclosed.

Five of the suspects, it was announced, have made full confessions, accounting for 17 kidnapings during the past two years. Hundreds of thousands of dollars, Roche declared, had been amassed by the syndicate in the form of ransom.

Farmer Ends His Life By Shooting

Kills Self As Result Of Worry Over Property Exchange

BUTLER, Pa., Jan. 2.—Worry over a deal he was negotiating for the transfer of his farm for a property in Pittsburgh was believed by the authorities to be responsible for Eli Visknick, aged 60, taking his own life at his home a half mile off the Perry highway and about seven miles south of Zelienople. Visknick died shortly after the Butler county authorities reached the home.

To close the deal it was required of Visknick that he give a $4,800 mortgage on his property, and Mrs. Visknick is said to have refused to give her consent or sign the necessary papers.

Declaring he was "tired of it all," Visknick, according to members of the family, went into his bedroom, and closing the door and backing against it to prevent his wife from following him, fired once, but the shot went wild. Mrs. Visknick rushed from the house for help, and Visknick made his way into the kitchen, where he fired a second time, inflicting a mortal wound, from which he died shortly afterward, after he had dragged himself into a nearby bedroom.

Besides his widow, Visknick is survived by a daughter, Catherine Visknick, aged six, and an adopted daughter, Mary Visknick, aged 22, both at home.

120 Killed In U. S. Over New Year's

Auto Accidents Top List And Poison Booze Toll Sinks To Low Figure

NEW YORK, Jan. 2.—The debut of 1932 brought accidental and tragic death to more than 120 persons throughout the United States, mainly as the result of holiday merrymaking.

With highway tragedies leading the way, skyway accidents, suicides, shootings, poison liquor, a fresh Ohio cave-in, bombings and quarrels lift the total.

Deaths of a similar nature over Christmas totaled over 200. Unlike other years, bad booze accounted for a very small percentage of the New Year's fatalities, with only four known deaths. Two here, one in Boston and another on the Pacific coast.

At least 60 of the known dead were joy riders, happily celebrating New Year's as they were killed in a series of mostly strange and unusual crashes.

A Springfield, O., crash accounted for four fatalities. Total 11 suicides were reported. Four deaths resulted from quarrels, and robbers shot two to death.

The total of injured is expected to reach 1,000 with many so seriously hurt that they will die.

Bombings caused three deaths. These bombings were not connected by police with the supposed anti-Fascist outrages.

The large number of deaths resulting from automobile accidents was probably due to rains and mists which were general over the nation. Roads were slippery or icy.

New Year's fire department, as well as the firemen in many other cities, long will remember the first hour of the new year, too. In the first 45 minutes after midnight 42 false alarms were turned in in New York alone, with 112 reported up to six a. m.

The most serious New Year's accident was the drowning of nine persons trapped in an automobile when it skidded on a dock and plunged into the Calumet river in Chicago.

At the nation's capital eight persons were known to be dead, five in motor accidents and three by drowning.

The suicides largely were confined to New York and Pennsylvania, where at least seven were known to have ended their lives, mostly by shooting or hanging. Two additional suicides were reported in Connecticut.

At Cortez, Col., a girl was frozen to death when she stuck in a snow-drift during a blizzard. Down in Miami, Fla., a druggist was shot by a bandit. A boy was killed while coasting in Salt Lake City.

At Anniston, Ala., a woman was killed by a stray bullet, believed fired during a street celebration. Merry-makers in Philadelphia, Pa., also wounded six persons. In Atlanta, Ga., a young woman was killed instantly when a torpedo, thrown by a young woman, exploded. Belated reports of a Georgia tornado added three deaths.

Police in Manhattan borough arrested 162 persons for intoxication.

Two Explosions At McKeesport Being Probed By Police

Two Explosions Within 24 Hours Of Each Other In Same City Block

(International News Service) PITTSBURGH, Jan. 2.—Police today were investigating two explosions which occurred within 24 hours of each other in the same block at McKeesport, near here.

As detectives began an investigation of the bombing of Russell Stauch's barber shop, a gas blast wrecked the three-story building directly across the street. No one was injured, as the family of Julius Paul who resided in the upper floors of the gas-wrecked building, was absent at the time.

Flames enveloped the second building and firemen were forced to battle the blaze for more than an hour. Two small frame buildings on either side were damaged by the fire.

The impact of the explosion frightened tenants in the block, many of whom fled to the street in terror.

Damage to Stauch's barber shop was estimated at $300 by police. They said the barber told them the bombing was part of a plot to force him to raise prices in conformity with the action of other barbers.

GIBBONS SURPRISED BY EVENTS IN MANCHURIA

Floyd Gibbons Calls Japanese-Chinese Warfare One Of Many Upsets
Finds American Woman Endangered By Bombs—Irish Boiler Maker Aids Chinese

(Following is a dispatch received from Floyd Gibbons, noted war correspondent, describing in detail for International News Service readers the colorful events which accompanied the Japanese occupation of Koupingtze, several of which involved some of his fellow Americans in amazing circumstances.)
By FLOYD GIBBONS
International News Service Staff Correspondent
(Copyright 1932, by International News Service)
KOU-PANG-TZE, Manchuria, Jan. 2.—Hello everybody! Happy New Year!

That is, if the greeting is not too late, because, frankly I have no idea right this minute when this message will reach you. I hope it goes through all right, because honestly it's the doggonest New Year's yarn I ever had to spin, and believe me, it's hot off the griddle.

Many Surprises
I have messed up with a few wars here and there around the world, but this Manchurian rumpus packs more surprises than boarding house hash.

Can you imagine an American army lieutenant and three Chinamen in a single locomotive running wild at night between the lines of two belligerent armies and the lieutenant now being detained practically as a prisoner by the Japanese until his identification can be established and also until the League of Nations or somebody or something decides whether this is a war in theory or in fact?

Girl Endangered
Can you imagine a pretty American girl lying flat on her face on a railroad station platform in the middle of Manchuria while Japanese airplanes dropped two hundred pound bombs missing up the scenery and railroad tracks, killing dozens and driving hundreds of Russian and Chinese passengers from stalled express trains in a panic-stricken terror?

Can you imagine an Irish boiler maker calmly smoking his pipe and taking charge of the situation, repairing the tracks and saving the Chinese army from being trapped by the advancing Jap forces?

Well sir, it's all a fact and it has all happened in the last two hectic days and nights in this all important Chinese railroad junction town of Koupingtze, which now is completely in the hands of the Japanese army.

Meager Meal
After five days afield with General Tamm's advancing army, I entered this town of Koupingtze with the Japanese troops.

I had a story to tell but could not find a telegraph office or an interpreter to aid me in getting it out. I spent a very chilly New Year's eve in a damp mud hut and had a meager New Year's dinner of two chunks of black bread, some canned butter and jam, three sardines and a glass of boiled water from a thermos bottle.

Next morning I finally located the interpreter and discovered he had been unavailable the night before because of an incident involving an American army officer and Japanese officials which may become the subject of a diplomatic investigation.

The officer gave his name as Lieutenant Harry S. Aldrich. He was a language student on duty in connection with the American legation in Peiping, but was temporarily assigned to assist Lieut. Col. Margetts, American military attaché near the Peiping legation.

I learned that on the night before about the time I arrived a locomotive rolled up the track from what was supposed to have been no man's land southwest of the town—in the very direction in which the Chinese had retreated. The locomotive came to a halt to avoid a head-on collision with a Japanese armored car. The Japanese surrounded the engine and found one American, three Chinese railway engineers and two firemen aboard.

On Observation.
On questioning, the American said he was there to report the Japanese occupation of Koupingtze, and that he would immediately return to Chinchow, where he had his headquarters.

My interpreter tells me the American did not produce his credentials and objected to leaving the cab of the locomotive when requested to confer with a superior officer.

Aldrich finally consented to go to General Tamm's army headquarters, where he was detained by the Japanese, who said they desired proof of the man's identity.

The American woman who survived the bombing of Koupingtze as the Chinese fled and the Japanese invaded the town is Mrs. Tina Stern of New York City, who at present is living in Tientsin. The story was told me by Walter Broshard, swift headline hunter.

She is a stenographer with the United States trade commission in Mukden.

Train Is Stalled.
Enroute from Tientsin to Mukden, her train stalled in Koupingtze because the line was torn up in the north.

Bingo, and all of a sudden the passengers heard a loud explosion somewhere near the station, and then a panic started.

Broshard, on the station platform, uncovered, hears a woman's voice asking him if he speaks English.

He helps the girl to the platform, and at the same time points to the sky above indicating the advancing Japanese planes.

He commanded the girl to lie flat on the platform as he did, while terrified Russians and Chinese rushed in panic-stricken in all directions. Then came a second crash, louder than the first and closer to the station. It struck not 50 yards from the platform.

With a terrible ear-splitting sound, it popped the glass from the train windows. An enormous geyser of earth, rocks, rails and ties rose into the air with the shrieks and cries of women and the wounded.

(Japanese military headquarters at Mukden repudiated the bombings described above, issuing a statement after Gibbons' story was transmitted through that city. They declared only leaflets were dropped by planes as the Japanese entered the town.)

Irishman Saves Day.
Eddie Cawley is the name of the Irish boiler maker, and he's a hot one who served in France on the royal engineers. By golly, Eddie grabbed a lot of those Chinese coolies and threw picks and shovels into their hands and marched them out of town to a spot where bombs had wrecked the railroad, and put them to work.

It was the main line leading from Chinchow and was holding up important express trains, including troops trapped in Koupingtze while the Japanese marched on. They would have been captured or would have met death in attempting to flee across these frozen fields, if it had not been for the Irishman.

SALVATION ARMY HOLDS WATCH NIGHT SERVICE

Salvation Army Hall, 34 West Washington street, was the scene of two interesting services on New Year's Eve. The first of these services in the earlier part of the evening was attended by quite a number of transients, who were given refreshments after the service and a night's lodging.

The other service started at eleven o'clock and was a watch service. Ensign V. Thomsen, officer in charge, conducted this service and read the message of greeting extended by Commander Evangeline Booth, who has just returned from a European tour in the interests of the army. The service was in the nature of a song, prayer and praise service and continued while the old year came to an end and the new year started on its way.

New Fire Police Plan Activities

Position Of Chief Is Filled By H. J. Scott—George Wyman Is Re-Elected

The New Castle Fire Police, organization of officers who act as guards for the department of fire at fires, is planning a season of varied activities, following its recent annual election at which George Wyman, president, was re-elected as head for 1932.

A new position, that of chief, was filled by H. J. Scott. Other officers elected are T. C. Armstrong, vice president; L. C. Matheus, secretary-treasurer; George Blishton, captain; W. J. Ellison, first lieutenant; John Anderson, second lieutenant; delegates to general department, George Wyman, R. C. Melvin, W. J. Ellison; delegates to relief, H. J. Scott, L. C. Matheus; delegate to state department, George Blishton.

The annual banquet committee this year is composed of T. C. Armstrong, W. J. Ellison, Hugh Shields and R. C. Melvin.

Tea Is Enjoyed By Y. W. Friday

Annual New Year's Tea Of Membership Takes Place In Association Parlor

The New Year's Day tea in the parlor of the Association building was a pleasing event for members of the Y. W. C. A. and special guests. The gathering was attended by around seventy-five women.

Tea was poured by Mrs. Walter H. Patterson, Miss Effie Butz and Miss Mary Aiken and was served by several Girl Reserves from the Benjamin Franklin junior high school.

The musical program which commenced at 3:15 p. m. was greatly appreciated, being presented by such artists as Miss Helen Aiken and Miss Katherine McMullen. Miss Allen gave several vocal selections with accompaniment on the piano by Mrs. J. A. Reed. Miss McMullen played several piano solos. Three spirituals were sung by a quartet of girls from the Elm street Y. W. C. A. center—Misses Emma Taylor, Edith Bell, Josephine Huff and Hattie Grey, with Rebecca Muldrow at the piano.

Dr. Mildred Rogers' membership committee sponsored the reception with Mrs. L. C. Mantz's tea committee in direct charge of the arrangements and program.

Christmas Program Attracts Big Crowd

Children Are Remembered At Service Held By Salvation Army

A crowd that filled every bit of available space in the Salvation Army hall, 34 West Washington street, was in attendance on the occasion of the annual Christmas entertainment by the members of the Army Sunday school. In fact the crowd was so great that many had to be turned away as there was no room for them.

A fine program was presented with Richard Overy of the Sampson Street Mission, opening it with prayer. The program was then presented under the direction of Miss Florence Neely and was well done and of interest, being in keeping with the Christmas season.

Featuring the Christmas decorations for this occasion, was the special Christmas picture on the platform drawn by Robert Hall. After the program, the members of the Sunday school were given presents and the other children, a treat.

Prepare To Try Indian Slayer

Young Apache Indian Will Be Tried For Brutal Killing Of White Woman

(International News Service)
TUCSON, Ariz., Jan. 2.—Goiney Seymour, 21, Apache Indian, accused killer of Henrietta Schermer, Columbia University co-ed, will be tried in Globe, Ariz., the latter part of January, U. S. District Attorney John C. Gungl announced today.

The trial originally was set for Jan. 5 but a full U. S. court docket caused postponement.

The Apache's death-like trance continues. Day after day he stares from his cot at a spot on the wall. He never speaks to his jailer, Sheriff Walter W. Bailey. He has maintained stoic silence.

The government charges Seymour attacked and killed Miss Schermer while he was escorting her to a ceremonial dance one moonlight night. The university student was conducting research into Apache family life when the crime occurred last July.

Shotgun Bandits Hunted By Police

Chicago Police Battle Gunmen After Holdup Of Night Club

(International News Service)
CHICAGO, Jan. 2.—A gang of shotgun bandits who terrorized Chicago's northwestern suburbs, wounding three night club patrons in a holdup, were sought by police today.

After engaging in battle with police the gang abandoned its automobile and escaped. Some members of the group were believed wounded. Of three hats discovered in the abandoned car, two were blood-stained.

COMMISSIONERS TO BE BEDFAST AS TERMS END

Illness will keep Lawrence county's two retiring county commissioners, T. J. McCullough and Calvin C. Boyd, from being at the court house Monday to close their terms. Commissioner P. O. Elder, re-elected, will be the only old board member present.

Boyd was confined to his Pulaski home by a severe cold today and was unable to perform his duties in the poor department office. McCullough is still confined to his Wampum home recovering from a stroke.

Commissioners-elect Elmer Conner and Franklin Woods will succeed Boyd and McCullough.

Woman Reporter For I. N. S. Pulls Fast One On Great Greta Garbo

Swedish Film Star Really Wants To Shun Interviews And Mr. And Mrs. Public

(Greta Garbo, glamorous Swedish film star, has been in New York a fortnight traveling under the name of "Gussie Berger."

Miss Garbo has defied reporters to interview her. She refused to admit her identity and even her Hollywood friends insisted that "Gussie Berger" in New York could not have been the same Greta Garbo as she was still on the coast.

The great Garbo finally admitted her identity but refused to grant interviews. Miss Dorothy Ducas, staff correspondent of International News Service, by a clever reportorial trick, obtained the following exclusive story by posing as an assistant to the hairdresser who shampooed Garbo's blonde tresses.)

By DOROTHY DUCAS
International News Service Staff Correspondent
(Copyright, 1932, by International News Service.)
NEW YORK, Jan. 2.—Dear Greta Garbo:—You must be sincere about not wanting your picture in the papers, not craving adulation and attention. Even in private you shun being conspicuous. You act like a regular human being, a simple-hearted, sweet-natured person, when you haven't the slightest idea you are being watched.

Excuse me, Greta, for playing that trick on you, but you had been hiding so successfully behind goggles and skull cap and the prosaic name of Gussie Berger that something had to be done about you. You see, I was the nervous little hairdresser's assistant who almost spilled sudsy shampoo down your neck, as I handed the pitcher to your coiffeur in Louis Parme's salon. And if I got a good story, believe me, Greta, I earned it.

About Spilled Beans.
You had everybody in the beauty parlor quaking before you, did you know it? But the first thing you said to me when I stood staring was: "Close the curtains!"

I thought you had guessed I was not a bona fide hairdresser's assistant, when I made that faux pas about the Camomile tea. You remember, you asked for the tea while I was delivering the shampoo and I said:

"In the shampoo?"
You looked so surprised I thought you had guessed right away that I was green at the game, but the flourish with which I later brought the little pitcher full of Camomile must have fooled you.

I thought it was awfully funny, your repartee with Eugene the first time you came into the Parme establishment. He really did not know you, and when he said your way of doing your hair was old-fashioned he was giving his honest opinion.

Imagine telling you that the Garbo hairdo is old-fashioned! Your come-back was cute, too. You said: "Well, I'm an old-fashioned girl, the kind your mother would like you to marry."

And Eugene assured you gravely: "No, not with that head of hair!"

Keeps In Background.
But you told me you had not done with Gussie Berger, that you were going to resort to her identity again to ward off crowds. You said: "I'm still trying to keep in the background."

I think you meant it. You had a sort of wistful expression as you said it. If you were seeking to enhance your mystery simply for commercial reasons, you would not have bothered to be so convincing for a little hairdresser's assistant.

"Won't you give me an autograph, Miss Garbo?" I asked, like any stagestruck girl.

"I'm so sorry, but I really can't. There are so many—if I began, I could never stop."

"But couldn't you make an exception for me?"
"I'm sorry."

I watched you walk down the corridor of that black-and-silver salon, and your stride would have given you away even if you hadn't been dressed in the old tweeds of Gussie Berger.

And then, before you left, you told me at least one fib, I think. You said you were doing nothing on New Year's eve. I know you didn't watch your face in that glass while your hair was washed and curled and looked so anticipatory for nothing. I'm sure you had a date, like any other girl!

But why do hunters walk so far when they could get the same results by climbing back yard fences with their guns loaded.

Business Outlook For 1932 Appears As Much Brighter

Leaders Of American Business Are Looking For Upturn After First Of Year

Belief Exists That Stock Market Will Show Recovery During Year

B. W. S. COUSINS
International News Service
Financial Editor

NEW YORK, Jan. 2.—As a salutation to the New Year, all security markets, banks, manufacturing concerns, wholesale houses and the bulk of the retail houses were closed Friday.

That leaders of American business are looking on the bright side of the industrial picture is well borne out by the annual "surveys" issued under their authority in the last week. Recognizing the destructive effects of the depression will require a long period of recuperation, our business leaders wisely refrain from predicting a decisive upturn in industry this year. They will be quite satisfied if the recuperative forces begin their work by the end of the first quarter and effect a gradual improvement that will be more visible and impressive in the third and fourth quarters.

Following precedent, the bulk of year-end "tax selling" in stocks and bonds was completed before the twelfth of the month. This was doubtless a factor in the severe slumps in United States Steel, American Telephone, General Motors and other investment favorites.

Though individual stocks broke during the final week to the low prices of the bear market, the year's low averages for industrial, and railroad stocks, as well as domestic and foreign bonds, was recorded on December 17.

Deflation Hits Market

That deflation has hit the stock market a hard blow is evidenced by the fact that the current price average is exactly 80 per cent under the peak of 1929. Granting that that peak was unreal and fantastic, a 50 to 60 per cent shrinkage in values would probably have ironed out most of the artificialities, allowing for business under normal in most of the important industries. But with steel, automobile and other industries operating under 30 per cent a further drop in stock prices was to be expected.

The question now is, are stocks on the bargain counter? Maintenance of current dividends on U. S. Steel, General Motors, General Electric, American Can etc., would surely entitle these stocks to that designation.

The turn of the year will usher in a better outlook in important divisions of world-wide business and 1932 will accomplish a great deal if it restores production in the steel and automobile industries to form 50 to 65 per cent of capacity.

Sentence Sermons

By Rev. Roy L. Smith, D. D.

DON'T WASTE LIFE

Regretting what could not be helped. Complaining about what may happen tomorrow. Hunting for faults in others when the good is so much easier to find. By blaming God for what is your own fault. On pleasures that cannot last longer than today. Exulting in victories that are already won.

Dr. Myers Warns Parents Of Hazards Of Holidays With Children At Home

Too Many Sweets, Visits To Theater And Picture Shows Make Youngsters Liable To Contagions

By GARRY C. MYERS, PH.D., Head Division Parental Education, Cleveland College, Western Reserve University.

Christmas is a trying day for the children and the parents, especially for the mother. Although the child from three to eight or ten begins the day with ecstasy, he doubtless ends it with whines. Too tired and high strung, he may be, to go readily to sleep.

Trying times there are ahead for mothers of school-age children. They will be home for several days. There will be more noise and confusion than usual. The family may be crowded, too, by relatives or other guests. After a few days the mother will long for school to begin again.

Neighbor children normally will drop in for play. Like your own children, grow more restless and more quarrelsome as the holidays drag on. Like your children, they probably have eaten too many sweets and are not in tip-top health. Crowding in your home or your neighbor's these children will spread colds and other communicable diseases.

Each child needs to know exactly what he is to do and when. He then can plan. He can budget his own time, providing periods when he will be in his play except in an emergency such as an accident, sudden illness, or death; not for an errand caused by poor management or by forgetting.

We want these holidays to be spent by our children happily in a happy family.

Culbertson Will Use New Partners In Contract Tilt

Culbertson Intimates Michael Gottlieb And Howard Schenken To Play

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, Jan. 2.—Ely Culbertson today decided he would have two new partners next week before the Culbertson-Lenz 150-rubber contract bridge match ended.

Michael Gottlieb and Howard Schenken, bridge experts, will replace Mrs. Josephine Culbertson as her husband's partner for at least one night each next week.

The match, which will be resumed Monday, probably will end during the coming week.

Only 30 rubbers remain to be played in the contest started to test the superiority of the Culbertson approach-forcing system against the "1-2-3" variation of the "official" system.

Sidney Lenz, Culbertson's opponent, was expected to continue play with Commander Winfield Liggett, Jr., who replaced Oswald Jacoby after the latter resigned.

Culbertson's side is leading by 20,220 points.

NEW YORK, Jan. 2.—"I can't understand this, I was just having a good time," said Frederick Howland, merchant, today when he found his wife, Minerva, committed suicide after brooding over the fact he danced with many other women at a New Year's Day party. She left the gathering by herself.

Mrs. Howland was found fatally injured in her Mt. Vernon home after the 24 she was turned on by the pilot of the kitchen stove and burst into flames.

Million Cheers At Annual Rose Parade

PASADENA, Cal., Jan. 2.—A symphony in blossoms with blooms for the words and the steady cheering of 1,000,000 persons for music trailed through Pasadena Friday in the annual tournament of roses.

In winning the grand sweepstakes the city of San Marino, whose floral float was dedicated to Australia, supplanted the city of Glendale as the almost habitual winner of the parade. Glendale placed first in the theme division.

One million persons lined the thoroughfares.

The parade was a prelude to the football game between Tulane University and the University of Southern California at the Rose Bowl.

Clear skies and a bright sun enhanced the spectacle.

Christmas is a trying day for the children and the parents, especially for the mother. Although the child from three to eight or ten begins the day with ecstasy, he doubtless ends it with whines. Too tired and high strung, he may be, to go readily to sleep.

Trying times there are ahead for mothers of school-age children. They will be home for several days. There will be more noise and confusion than usual. The family may be crowded, too, by relatives or other guests. After a few days the mother will long for school to begin again.

Neighbor children normally will drop in for play. Like your own children, grow more restless and more quarrelsome as the holidays drag on. Like your children, they probably have eaten too many sweets and are not in tip-top health. Crowding in your home or your neighbor's these children will spread colds and other communicable diseases.

Each child needs to know exactly what he is to do and when. He then can plan. He can budget his own time, providing periods when he will be in his play except in an emergency such as an accident, sudden illness, or death; not for an errand caused by poor management or by forgetting.

We want these holidays to be spent by our children happily in a happy family.

Legislative Record By Congress Meager As Year 1931 Ended

Soldier's Bonus Bill Only Outstanding Piece Of National Legislation

President Hoover Suffered Greatest Setback At Hand Of 1931 Congresses

By WILLIAM K. HUTCHINSON
International News Service Staff
Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Jan. 2.—Tremendous gains of the Democratic party culminated finally in their capture of the house, featured congressional activities during 1931.

The legislative record of the year was meager, even though two different congresses met. This was due to the long nine months recess taken after the death of the old 71st on March 4 last until the new 72nd met on December 7.

Bonus Bill.
Outstanding legislative achievements in 1931 were enactment of the soldiers' bonus loan bill over a presidential veto and ratification of the Hoover one-year moratorium—each by a different congress. There were other congressional battles of prominence, such as the bitter fight over President Hoover's nominations to the federal power commission and the perennial contest over disposition of Muscle Shoals, but most of them ended in deadlocks.

The old congress had a stormy ending last March 4. Before it expired, congress had engaged in major controversies with the president over Muscle Shoals, bonus loans, the power commission, drought relief and immigration prohibition.

Defeat For Hoover.
In providing loans on soldiers' adjusted service certificates, the old congress gave President Hoover his greatest legislative defeat of the year. Both houses and senate enacted the bill by overwhelming majorities over a presidential veto.

The fight over drought relief was just as dramatic. At one point, the president charged congressional leaders were "playing politics at the price of human misery." This incensed Republicans as well as Democrats and the president was roundly rebuked on the floors of congress for a week without any defense by administration leaders. In the end, congress appropriated $15,000,000 for drought relief loans, including loans for the purchase of food, though the president had condemned such legislation. Mr. Hoover did not veto the bill.

Power Veto Sustained.
The president won one battle when the senate sustained his veto of the Muscle Shoals bill. There was no such controversy over the enactment of a bill, authorizing modernization of the navy, standardization of wages on government building projects and a 44-hour week for postal employees. A bill proposed for a two-year ban on immigration was defeated in the senate.

The new congress did but one thing during its brief 1931 career. It ratified the one-year moratorium on war debts. The house also passed a bill appropriating $100,000,000 to aid federal land banks but the measure languished in the senate. It will be considered early in the new year.

WOODBURY, N. J., Jan. 2.—One youth was killed and another critically injured Friday in a triple automobile collision near Wenonah, N. J., a few miles from here.

The dead boy was identified as Daniel Diamond, 17-year old student of Clayton, N. J., high school. He succumbed at 6 a. m. in the Underwood hospital here, Frank S. Hillebrand, also of Clayton, is in the same hospital with a fractured skull.

State troopers investigating the crash said Hillebrand was driving north on the Glassboro highway near Wenonah when his machine crashed into one operated by Lawrence Milestead, 26, former Georgetown University track star, of Pittman, N. J. and then careened into the car of John Dennis, Jr., of Clayton. Dennis, a passenger in this car was fatally injured.

Milestead and Dennis escaped with slight lacerations.

Police announced the drivers of the three cars would be summoned before Squire Harry Friant of Woodbury for a hearing.

Study Of Psychology Of Child Genius Made

By LOGAN CLENDENING, M. D.

My papers carries an account from Berlin of a six-year-old girl who gave a performance on the piano which astonished a large audience. She played for two hours intricate and exacting compositions of Bach, Haydn, Beethoven, Chopin and Weber.

It is a coincidence that this month in a German medical journal there is an elaborate study of the psychology of child geniuses. The study reveals some interesting facts, not entirely in accord with our previous conceptions of these prodigies.

One of the striking disclosures is that all the children delight in exhibiting their accomplishments. Most of them a tacit assumption on the part of the public that the parents are slave drivers who exact exhausting performances from their offspring. The actual condition seems to be that the children can never get enough of the labor they do so well.

They also feel a grave responsibility for the high quality of their performance, a circumstance which accounts for the frequently noted serious mien of these unusual children. They are usually model children in behavior, devoted to their parents and very canny about getting good financial results for their work.

There is another common belief—that this study has served to modify one-sided and of low general mental average. Intelligence tests carried out on this group showed that they were far above the average child of the same age in all departments. An eight-year-old chess prodigy committed forty dates to memory in four minutes, and a nine-year-old pianist showed general information and ability to think far above that of children of 12 and 14.

Certain strange hiatuses did, it is true, come to light. The chess genius who simultaneously played and won twenty games of chess against the best chess players of the Berlin Chess club, does not know the date of the month, nor can he differentiate between common coins. The piano player of nine cannot draw so well as a four-year-old. A young violinist was unable to bend a wire into the simplest geometric patterns.

The after life of these child wonders is a frequent subject of speculation. The author of the article has been observing many of them for over ten years. The natural assumption would be that each would go on developing his special talent until his superiority was monumental. But such seems not to be the case. They frequently lose both interest and the knack of their particular proficiency and turn into something entirely different.

Vanishing Americans
18.—Black Hawk Defeats Stillman

WHILE MAJOR SILLIMAN WITH 270 SOLDIERS TRAILED THE HOSTILE SALIKS UP ROCK RIVER, BLACK HAWK SENT THREE MESSENGERS WITH A WHITE FLAG TO REQUEST A PARLEY WITH THE MAJOR. SUSPECTING SOME TRICK, THE WHITES HELD THE MESSENGERS PRISONERS.

MYSTIFIED BY THE PROLONGED ABSENCE OF HIS MESSENGERS, BLACK HAWK SENT SEVEN OTHERS TO SILLIMAN. FOR SOME REASON THEY WERE FIRED UPON BY THE SOLDIERS AND TWO WERE KILLED.

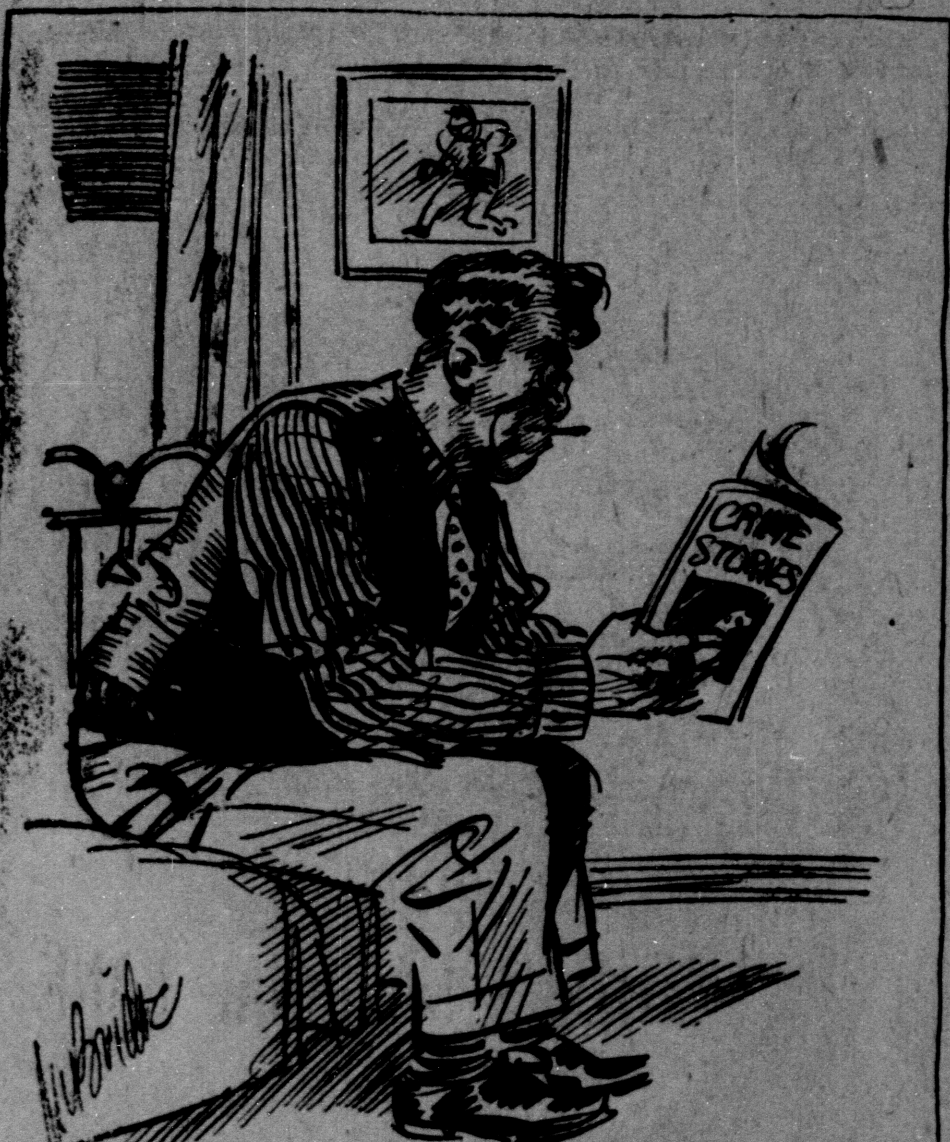

BLACK HAWK WAS ENRAGED TO HEAR OF THIS TREACHERY. TAKING 150 BRAVES, HE TURNED BACK AND LAID AN AMBUSH FOR HIS PURSUERS BESIDE THE TRAIL.

NOT THINKING THE HAWK WOULD RISK A BATTLE, SILLIMAN WALKED BLINDLY INTO THE TRAP. A DOZEN SOLDIERS WERE SLAIN AND ONLY A HASTY RETREAT PREVENTED GREATER LOSS AND POSSIBLE ANNIHILATION.

THE GUMPS—

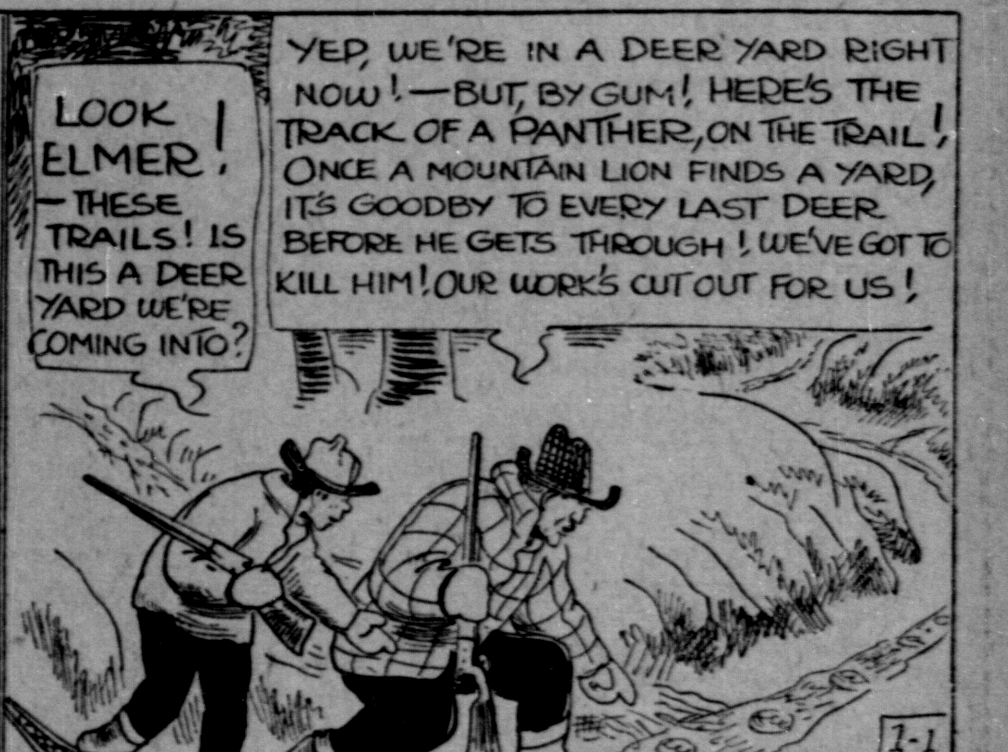

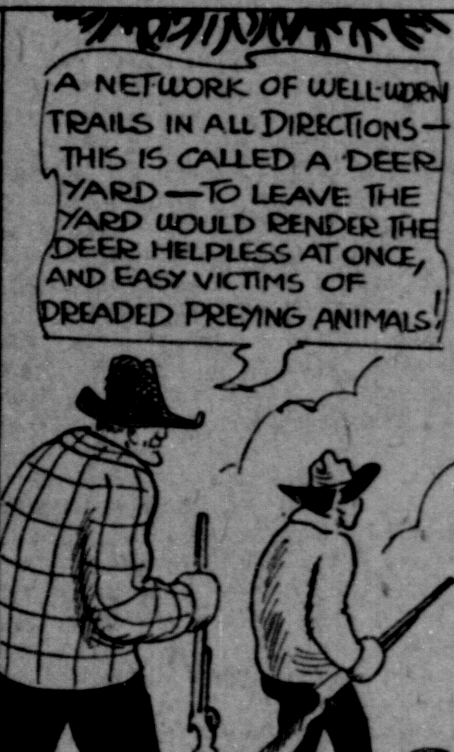

WELL, DEAR READER DO YOU REMEMBER WHEN ANDY BOUGHT TOM CARR STOCK FOR A BONG? DO YOU RECALL HOW THE GREAT CONSOLIDATION INCREASED THE VALUE OF THE STOCK TWENTY-FIVE TIMES? DO YOU REMEMBER IT WAS WORTH $250,000 WHEN TOM WAS CALLED IN BY HIS BANKERS TO MAKE GOOD ON HIS NOTES? DO YOU REMEMBER HOW BIM GUMP DROVE THE STOCK DOWN TO NOTHING? DO YOU REMEMBER HOW ANDY STORMED BECAUSE HE HAD NOT SOLD? DO YOU REMEMBER HOW HE THOUGHT IT A GOOD IDEA TO GIVE HIM THE WORTHLESS STOCK? TOM IS NOW BACK IN CONTROL—THE STOCK IS A BETTER ASSET NOW THAN EVER BEFORE HIM HAS TUCKERED AWAY IN HER SAFETY ALICE FOR THE BEACH OF ANDY.

Army And Navy Agree To Play Regular Game

Athletic Relationship Between Service Teams Has Been Re-Established

CAPTAIN JONES GETS POSITION

By BILL CORUM
International News Service Sports Writer

NEW YORK, Jan. 2.—Perhaps it would be a good idea to start the new year off with a couple of exclusive stories. Just to sort of set the tempo, eh? Good idea or bad, here they are:

(1) At a war end meeting here in New York representatives of West Point and Annapolis agreed to play a regularly scheduled football game in 1932 and thus resume full athletic relations between the Army and the Navy. While the contracts were not signed, due to the fact that the Navy's representatives were not authorized to go that far, thus preventing an official announcement, this is understood to be only a formality. A full and satisfactory agreement was reached.

Jones Gets Job
(2) Captain Lawrence (Biff) Jones, former Army head coach and more recently assistant graduate manager of athletics at West Point, has been appointed head coach at Louisiana State University and will leave shortly to take up his duties there. Captain Jones had been expected to succeed Major Phil Fleming in charge of Army athletics this spring but apparently the Major is going to be around a while longer.

While nothing was said about that, and probably the less said the better, it looks as though the service game is to be resumed on its former basis. That is to say, West Point hasn't and isn't going to make the changes Annapolis demanded when relations were severed. Thus the resumption of the country's most colorful football game is sporting of Navy and indicates that they are ready to fight fire with fire and Steadfast and Prices with Kirns and Tuttle. Why not?

FIGHT RESULTS

(International News Service)
AT DAYTON, O.—Manuel Castro, Mexican lightweight, defeated Al Gahn, Columbus (10).

AT TRENTON, N. J.—Young Terry, Trenton middleweight, knocked out Bobby Brown, Lowell, Mass. (10).

BILLIARD TOURNEY

Middleweights To Battle For Title Ditched By Walker

Madison Square Garden Will Stage Tourney To Seek Real Championship

(International News Service)
NEW YORK, Jan. 2.—A middleweight elimination contest to choose a successor to Mickey Walker, resigned champion, will be staged by Madison Square Garden.

Vince Dundee, Young Terry, "Chick" Devlin and Harry Smith will appear here on January 25 and the winner will be matched for a 15-round final at the Garden on February 27.

The final survivor, it was announced, will be matched with the winner of a similar tournament now in progress in Chicago. Gorilla Jones, Ohio Negro, is favored to win the Chicago tourney.

Three Fast Games In Church Loop

Sacred Hearts, Epworth M. E. And Wesley M. E. Winners Friday

Three fast games were played in the New Castle Church loop last night at the "Y" floor. The First Baptists of the "A" league fell to the Wesley M. E. team in a fast game 18 to 16. St. Andrews Club Has Fine Meeting

St. Andrew's Athletic Club Holds Pep Meeting For Games Tonight

The St. Andrews Athletic Association held their regular meeting in the church basement last night and the meeting was in the form of a pep meeting for the basketball games tonight at St. Mary's floor in which the St. Andrews "A" and "B" teams will play the First Baptists of West Pittsburg.

Chairman Wignall gave a very eloquent speech about the fine work that the St. Andrews Athletic club is doing and then called the members of the basketball teams for short talks. The boys all responded in a good manner. Coach Tommy Evans said that he was well pleased with the showing of the team to date. The St. Andrews team has lost but one game, that to the Wampus Merchants.

Tonight the St. Andrews varsity team will play the First Baptists of the New Castle Church league, and the St. Andrews "B" team will play the West Pittsburg quintet. The first game starts at 7:30 o'clock and a good crowd is expected to attend.

INDOOR TRACK MEN WILL START SEASON

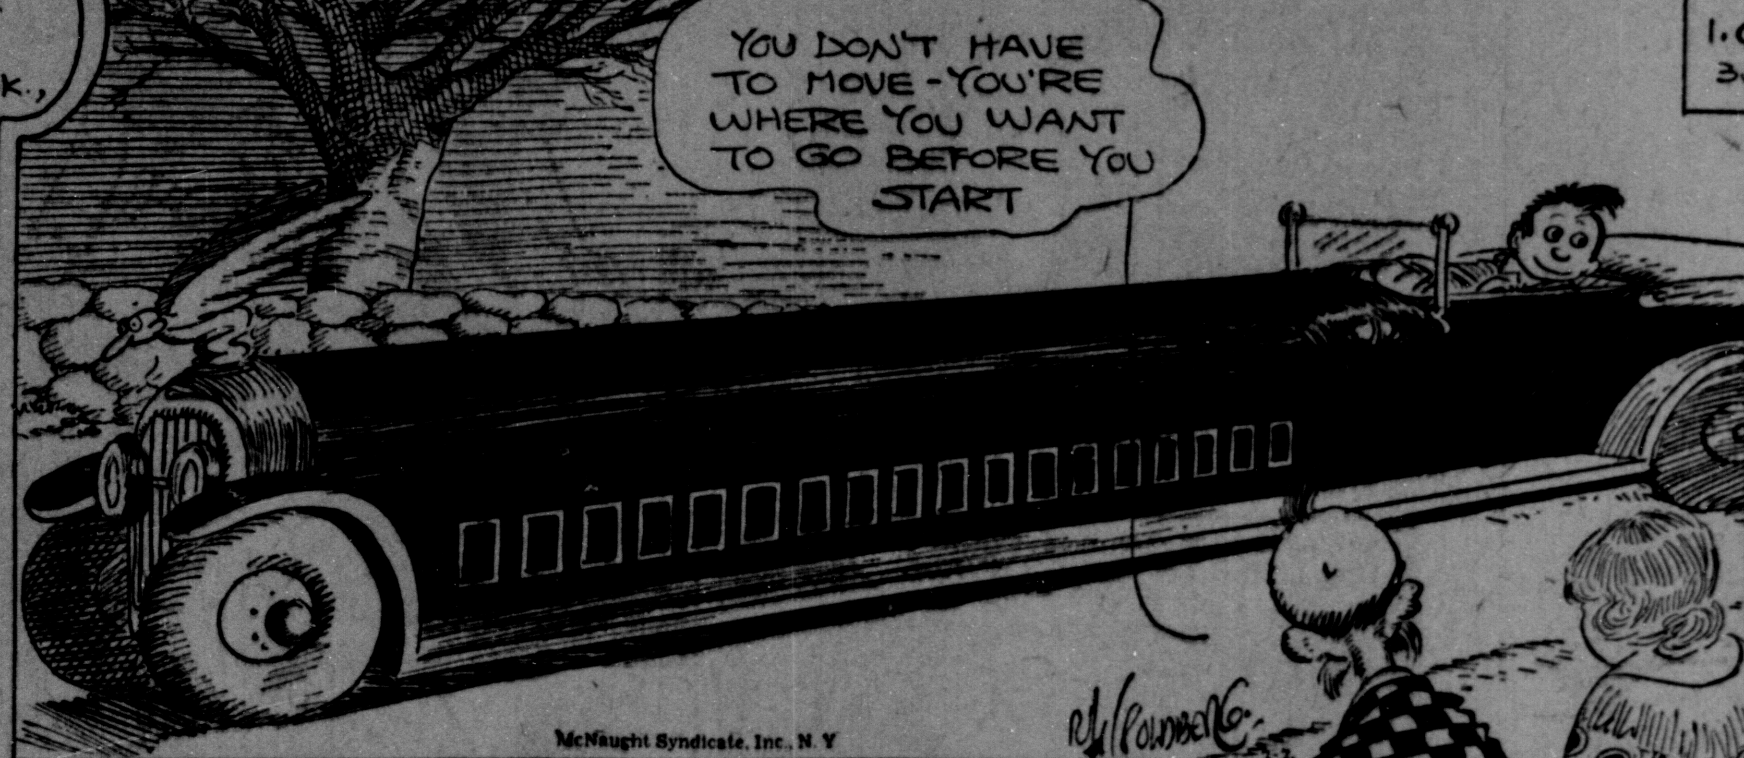

(International News Service)
NEW YORK, Jan. 2.—New York's indoor track season gets under way tonight with the sixth annual Knights of Columbus games to be staged at the 106th Infantry Armory.

More than 400 athletes will compete including a scattering of National A. A. U. intercollegiate and district A. A. U. champions. The Mayor Walker half mile race, one of the five special invitation events features the program.

RANGERS DESIRE GAMES
The Neshannock Rangers would like to book games with all first class teams ranging in age from 12 to 15. For games call 3382 and ask for Kenneth. Games will be played either at Army or away. Call between 4:30 and 5:30 o'clock.

St. Mary's Tops Butler 32 To 14

Saints Impressive As They Start New Year With Fine Victory

The St. Mary's varsity basketball team began the New Year in an impressive manner by taking the measure of the strong Central Park team of Butler 32 to 14 at the St. Mary's floor. The locals led all during the game. Kulich, Jones and Lackey led the scoring with ten field goals between them.

The score at the end of the first half favored the Saints by a comfortable margin. The offensive work of Kulich, Jones and Lackey kept the Saints in the lead, while Uhl and Jones playing their customary fine guarding game held the opponents to but three field goals. It was on the foul line that the visitors looked for best caging eight tries.

Coach Arnold "Pit" Fraser presented a smooth working St. Mary's machine. Their passing and floor work was superb throughout the game. The visitors had met and defeated some of the best and strongest lineup. Lackey was an improved player last night, this youngster, caging the ball three times for scores.

In the preliminary game the St. Mary's girls defeated the St. Paul Lutheran maidens 20 to 14. The game was interesting. For the St. Mary's team the playing of Confer and Bunnell was the best. For the losers the work of Kraft featured.

The summary:
St. Marys 32 Butler 14
Kulich, F., Poola Lackey, F., Cavalero Alexander, C., Norris Jones, G., Hollock Uhl, G., Bayer Sub—St. Marys—Rowe, Gennock, Mancine, Volesko, Donahue, Morello, C. Battling Gizzy Defeats Bernard

Pittsburgher Too Clever For Roger Bernard In New Year's Day Engagement

(International News Service)
PITTSBURGH, Pa., Jan. 2.—Battling Gizzy, local featherweight favorite, today held a decision over Roger Bernard, Flint, Italian, as a result of their ring battle before a New Year's day crowd at Motor Square Garden here.

The fight was slow and interesting only in a few rounds. Gizzy's work was only mediocre and he did not apparently extend himself. In the semi-final, Jimmy Thomas took the decision from Louis Carpenter, Dayton, Ohio, after an eight-round match. Buddy McArthur beat Jim McVey, negro light heavyweight, in a six-round preliminary.

Pat Gilmore, of East Liverpool, O., lost to Fritz Zivic in the opening round on the card. Gilmore dropped for the count of 10 in the third round. Zivic was fighting his third professional bout.

Two Auto Racers Severely Injured

Ralph Hepburn And Bryan Saulspagh Injured As Autos Crash At Oakland, Cal.

(International News Service)
OAKLAND, Cal., Jan. 2.—Ralph Hepburn, 35, Los Angeles, one of America's outstanding automobile racing drivers, and Bryan Saulspagh, 24, of Rock Island, Ill., were fighting for their lives today.

They were injured at Oakland Speedway when their cars skidded on the dirt track as a heavy rain began falling.

Ten thousand spectators screamed in horror as the two cars, speeding at 100 miles an hour, crashed and leaped the guard rail.

Southern California Tops Tulane 21 To 12

By GEORGE T. DAVIS
International News Service Sports Writer

PASADENA, Jan. 2.—They've showed that they can "dish it out" and now the Trojans of Southern California have proved that they can "take it" as well.

It was their ability to withstand an inspired Tulane attack that enabled the Trojans to score a 21 to 12 victory in the annual Rose Bowl game and win the championship of the United States.

Expected to win by at least three touchdowns, the Trojans had to battle to the last ditch to eke out a nine-point victory. Tulane, with the best team ever to come out of the Southland—although it is the only one to be beaten in the annual Tournament of Roses game—out-charged, out-rushed and out-passed the Trojans, but the latter made the most of their opportunities.

Pinckert Stars
It was Erny Pinckert who saved the day for Southern California. Defensively, he was a marvel against the aerial game of the Greenies and their running attack, while he scored two of the three touchdowns by reverse plays over the sector that was guarded by Jerry Dalrymple, Tulane's All-American flankman.

The other Trojan tally, the first of the day, was made by Ray Sparling on a reverse off left tackle, which meant that all three tallies were the result of "Pop" Warner's reverse plays that Howard Jones has developed to such a high degree this year.

Locals Rounding In Shape For Game
New Castle-Beaver Falls Game Should Provide Thrills
Galore Tuesday

With only one more practice day left, the New Castle high school floor team is rounding into good early season condition for its opening contest in the Section Three race of the W. P. I. A. L. league next Tuesday night when Coach Phil Bridenbaugh will present his latest athletic edition against Beaver Falls high on the George Washington gym floor. The game starts at 8:00 o'clock.

During the past week the local passers have undergone secret practices on the Washington court. The game with the Pitt Freshies gave the local mentor an opportunity to see the rough spots evident on his machine. This week has been polishing week. Monday afternoon the Tin City ramblers will go through a light drill, mainly to loosen the muscles.

A marked improvement has been evident on the New Castle quintet. The boys look faster and seem to be beginning to click. In the Pitt game there were many instances when the locals appeared ragged. Beaver Falls, aside from training daily has played two games this week. Fans from the valley city report that they will have a good representative in the Section Three race this season.

To date Beaver Falls has shown impressiveness in its six games. Among the foes demolished are All-quippa, East Palestine and Beaver. A big delegation will be in attendance here next Tuesday according to our friend Jack Henry from the News-Tribune. The contest Tuesday will mark the resumption of athletic relationship between the schools after a lapse of several years.

The contest should provide thrills galore. The game starts at 8:00 o'clock.

Boosters Top Smoothies, 20-10

Flashing a fast attack the Boosters five won its second straight victory of the season Friday morning on the Y. M. C. A. floor, defeating the Smoothies. The score was 20-10.

The Boosters would like to play the St. Mary's Reserves, East Brook, St. Michaels, or any other team. For games call 2514-J and ask for Louie or call 255-R and ask for Jack.

The lineup:
Boosters 20 Smoothies 10
Hitchens, F., Muse Zuk, F., Shannon Komlinic, C., Rambo Searaso, G., Duff Perch, G., Howe Field goals: Hitchens 2, Zuk 2, Komlinic 2, Searaso 2, Muse 2, Shannon 1, Duff 1.

Fouls: Boosters 5 out of 11; Smoothies 2 out of 7.
Referee: McNichols.

Americanism: Joining the pack to pull down one who is slipping; cringing at the heels of one who has a whip.

Machines now do almost everything except say: "I'll take a dozen of those."

Titans Defeat Monmouth Five

Illinois Quintet Proves Little Opposition For Westminster Basketeers

BROWNLEE AND KOCHERAN STAR

The Westminster College Titan basketball band swarmed all over Monmouth College from Illinois, in a floor game at New Wilmington last night. The final score was 37 to 12. The invaders from the mid-west never had a look in with the Lawther coached passers.

"Mike" Kocheran and "Bud" Brownlee were the "big shots" in the Westminster lineup with fifteen and fourteen points respectively, while Siljander and Rice added several more points. The Blue and white clad quintet led all during the way. Robinson and Cornati were the best for the Monmouth team.

Off to a flying start in the New Year the Westminster team will now start their tough schedule in the quest of the Tri-State conference title.

The summary:

Maryland Man Is Suicide Victim At Pittsburgh

Unrequited Love Causes Married Man To Kill Himself On Woman's Doorstep

(International News Service)
PITTSBURGH, Pa., Jan. 2.—Roland Hyett, 30, of Frederick, Md., who came home for a holiday visit with his parents here, was dead today, a victim of suicide because of unrequited love.

According to Miss Helen Hemphill, who spurned his attentions, Hyett is a married man and the father of two children.

Hyett fired a bullet into his head on the doorsteps of the rooming house where Miss Hemphill, aged 26, is employed.

"I met Roland last New Year's Day," said Miss Hemphill. She continued:

"Tried To Break Up.
"I went with him awhile until I learned he was married. Then I decided it was best we didn't see anything more of each other. But he kept on calling me up every time he came to town and persisted in wanting to see me."

"He came here yesterday. Then he drew out his gun and threatened to kill me. I succeeded in quieting him and turned and went into the house. When Roland tried to follow, I locked the door and ran upstairs."

Hyett, repulsed, hammered on the door and broke the door glass. Then he turned the gun on himself. He was dead on arrival at a hospital.

LA BARBA LOSES
(International News Service)
MEXICO CITY, Jan. 2.—Baby Arizmendi, Mexican featherweight, today held a victory over Fidel La Barba, Los Angeles, despite the fact the American was credited by newspapermen with winning seven of ten rounds in their bull ring battle yesterday.

The American boxer was the aggressor and showed superior skill. Some fans booed the decision for the Mexican.

The House got 5,000 bills in the first week. So now those fellows know how it feels.

Widener Approves Betting Machines

By FRANK G. MENKE
International News Service Sports Editor

NEW YORK, Jan. 2.—What odds that pari-mutuel machines won't be clicking on the race tracks of New York by 1935?

It was 1,000,000 to 1 in the days when August Belmont lived and was czar of the turf in the Empire state. Belmont passed on. Joseph E. Widener donned his royal raiment. And the figures were the same. Widener was as unrelenting a foe of machine wagering as had been his predecessor as chairman of the Jockey club.

But a change has come, radical-dramatic.

Widener Approves.
About two years ago Widener invested in the Hialeah race track in Miami. Bookmaking alone was permitted. When he was ready to open for the 1931 season the Florida official suddenly ruled against the books. It then was up to Widener to use the option form, or contribution system of wagering, which is just pari-mutuels without the blessing of the law—that, or close the track.

It is not now an automatic thought that Widener will exert all his power to bring machine betting to New York.

In the past all efforts to abolish bookmaking and substitute the mutuels met with defeat in New York, because first Belmont and then Widener opposed the idea and the bookies were solid in the battle to perpetuate their own business. This was opposition that none of the tens of thousands who wanted the mutuels could batter into line.

John Jordan Is Called By Death

Sudden Death Comes As Surprise And Shock To Many Friends

ELLWOOD CITY, Jan. 2.—Friends and relatives were surprised and shocked when word was received this morning that John Jordan, father of A. J. Jordan of Ewing Park, this city, suddenly passed away at 10:45 last night at the home of his son, William, in Pleasant Hill.

The deceased was preceded in death by his wife three years ago. He leaves three sons, William, Frank and A. J. Jordan, all of this locality, and one daughter, Mrs. Fred Bingle, also of this city. The remains will be brought to the home of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Bingle at 124 Fountain avenue. Funeral services will be held from the Trinity Lutheran church on Monday morning at 10 o'clock, with Rev. C. F. Christiansen officiating. Interment will be made in the Locust Grove cemetery.

Friends Entertained At Dinner Event

ELLWOOD CITY, Jan. 2.—Mr. and Mrs. J. C. McDevitt delightfully entertained several of their friends and members of the family at a pleasing 6 o'clock dinner Friday evening at their home on Wayne avenue.

Covers were arranged for Mr. and Mrs. B. B. Hall and daughter Mary Jane of Port Austin, Mich. and Mrs. William Hall, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Latimer and son, Buddy, Mike Dunn, Miss Marie McDevitt, and Mr. and Mrs. J. C. McDevitt. The table was beautifully adorned in snapdragons and flowers.

After dinner the hours were wiled away in a social manner. Mrs. C. B. Hall is a sister of Mrs. McDevitt and left today for Michigan with her husband and daughter.

HELEN DUFF CIRCLE
ELLWOOD CITY, Jan. 2.—The Helen Duff Circle of the Slippery Rock Presbyterian church met this afternoon at 2 o'clock at the parsonage and held their regular monthly meeting. Seventeen members were present.

Mrs. Paul Elliott conducted the devotional period and also told a missionary story. One of the members read the scripture reading for the day. Following this period, the remainder of the time was devoted to sewing on quilt patches.

A social hour of games, contests and puzzles brought the afternoon to a close with a tempting collation served by the hostess assisted by her daughter Miss Rose.

The Circle will meet again the first Saturday afternoon in January the place to be decided at a later date.

ELLWOOD PERSONALS

Special Meetings To Be Held In U. P. Church For Week

Noted Song Leader To Conduct Chorus And Singing Throughout Week

ELLWOOD CITY, Jan. 2.—Two weeks of special meetings will be held in the U. P. church of this city beginning Jan. 6 and continuing through Jan. 17, as observance of the Week of Prayer.

These meetings will begin at 7:30 each evening. This arrangement should be of great interest to the people of the community, as Homer Welsh of Grove City and noted evangelistic song leader and traveler will be present for these two weeks to conduct the singing and instruct the choir. Mr. Welsh has been with several of the leading evangelists of our country. A large chorus choir will assist in this work.

Different speakers will address the gatherings each evening. They are announced as follows: Sunday, the pastor, Rev. W. E. Minter; Monday, Rev. William Rotzler of New Brighton; Tuesday, L. S. Loudon, D. D. of Mars; Wednesday and Thursday, Rev. S. D. Copeland of New Castle; Friday, Rev. Homer B. Henderson of Grove City; second week—Rev. A. J. Randles of New Castle.

Daughter Surprised On Birthday Friday

Mr. and Mrs. VanGorder Entertain Friends Of Miss Lavina On Anniversary

ELLWOOD CITY, Jan. 2.—Miss Lavina VanGorder was delightfully surprised last night when her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Roy VanGorder entertained several of her young friends in honor of her birthday anniversary at their home in Ellport.

The guests enjoyed the evening with cards, games and dancing, at the conclusion of which the hostess assisted by the honoree served a dainty luncheon, much to the pleasure of those present. Miss VanGorder was the recipient of several lovely and useful gifts.

Those present on the occasion were the Misses Dora Haberman, Frances Nelson, Esther Rinker, Mabel Wehman, Helen VanGorder, the honoree, and the Messrs. Kenneth Elan, James Patterson and Fred Robuck and Mr. and Mrs. Roy VanGorder.

Week Of Prayer To Be Observed

ELLWOOD CITY, Jan. 2.—The First Presbyterian Church will observe the Week of Prayer with a special service each evening next week except Saturday evening. The services will start at the usual hour of 7:45 p. m. and will be held in the Sunday school room. Special speakers will bring the message from evening to evening, as follows: Monday, Rev. W. L. Whitshart, First Presbyterian church of Sharon; Tuesday, Rev. Robert C. Axtell, First Presbyterian church of New Brighton; Wednesday, Rev. J. Boice Atwell, the College Hill Presbyterian church, Beaver Falls; Thursday, Rev. P. W. Barr, First Presbyterian church, Beaver Falls; Friday, Rev. Andor Husany, Magvar Presbyterian church, Ellwood City. Communion service will be held Sunday morning, January 10.

Mrs. Joseph Wilson Dies Friday Night

ELLWOOD CITY, Jan. 2.—Mrs. Joseph W. Wilson, 28, of Wampum avenue, passed away at 6:30 o'clock Friday evening after a short illness. Besides her husband the deceased leaves a son, Joseph Franklin; four sisters, Mrs. David O'Connor of New Castle, Mrs. R. O. Wilson of Painesville, Mrs. C. C. Torr of Sharon and Miss Anna Crouch of Wampum; two brothers, Frank Crouch of Toledo, O. Marion Crouch of Wampum; and a half brother and sister, Harry and Lillian Crouch.

Funeral services will be held on Monday afternoon at 2 o'clock from the First Church of God with Rev. L. E. Slacum officiating. The remains will be brought to the home of Frank Wilson, a father-in-law, at 725 Clover avenue.

WATCH PARTY AT KNOX CHURCH
ELLWOOD CITY, Jan. 2.—The Adult Bible class of the Knox Presbyterian church held a watch meeting at the church Thursday evening for the members of the congregation and their friends. Forty were in attendance.

The regular monthly meeting of the class was held at this time and routine matters were transacted. Following this was a delicious tureen dinner served by the ladies of the church.

Rev. Robert E. Bell, pastor of the church, spoke briefly as the old year was passing into oblivion and the meeting adjourned by everyone singing, "Till We Meet Again."

Ellwood People Attend Sixtieth Wedding Event

Mr. and Mrs. John Sarver Celebrate 60 Years Of Wedded Bliss At Prospect

ELLWOOD CITY, Jan. 2.—Many children, relatives, and friends of this city were present to celebrate the 60th wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. John Sarver of Prospect, Pa., on Thursday afternoon.

The happy couple were united in marriage in 1871 in Harlansburg and almost immediately left for West Virginia where they spent most of their time. They just recently moved to Prospect.

All but one of their living children were present on this memorable occasion. The 22 guests were gathered around a large table which was appointed decorated in gay colors.

The centerpiece was a large and beautiful cake. Following the dinner the honor guests were showered with many beautiful and useful gifts. The remainder of the day was enjoyed with a general social time.

Present from Ellwood City were Mr. and Mrs. John Sarver, Mrs. M. C. Sarver, Mr. and Mrs. DeWitt Sarver, Mrs. Jesse Glover, and Mr. and Mrs. Laverne Blauder.

Mrs. Ira West Is Club Hostess

As You Like It Members Have Pleasant Session Last Night

ELLWOOD CITY, Jan. 2.—Mrs. Ira West dispensed pleasing hospitality to the members of the As-You-Like-It club at their regular meeting and New Year's party last night. The home was appropriately decorated for the occasion. Games and contests featured throughout the evening, as a result of which Mrs. Robert Goss and Mrs. James Clark received the prizes.

At an appointed hour the hostess with the assistance of Mrs. Clark served a delectable menu much to the satisfaction of those present.

The club will be the guests of Mrs. Clyde Graham in two weeks.

FRIENDSHIP CLASS

ELLWOOD CITY, Jan. 2.—The Friendship Circle class of the M. E. church will hold its meeting Monday at the church instead of at the home of Mrs. H. H. Reynolds as previously announced. This arrangement has been made in order that the members may attend the prayer meeting at the church. The class will hold their meeting following this in their rooms. The hostesses for the day are the Misses Blanche and Anna Boy, and Mrs. Reynolds.

WAMPUM

CLUB PARTY
The Woman's club met Thursday afternoon in the Presbyterian church for their annual Xmas party which was postponed until this date. Twenty-four members were present and fifteen special guests.

Following the business meeting the program was carried out as follows: Mrs. E. L. Hennon, leader, and Mrs. Elsie McRee, hostess.

Talks on curiosities of holiday customs by each member which was very interesting.

Song by the club—Joy to the World.

Yuletide story—by Mrs. C. F. Morrow.

A duet by Mrs. S. Hennon and Mrs. Geo. Herbert, accompanied by Eugene Reppman.

Fire-side chat and exchange of gifts. The room was very pretty with all the Christmas decorations. A large tree beautifully trimmed and lighted, large baskets of Poinsettias, making one feel it was Christmas and that it was not past a week ago.

The exchange of gifts was quite an enjoyable affair and the fire-side chat brought the 1931 Christmas party to a close, each wishing all a happy new year.

CAPT. PHILLIPS RETIRES AFTER LONG SERVICE

After thirty years of faithful, efficient service, Captain Charles B. Phillips has retired from the Carnegie Steel Company and expects now to begin a vacation that he has long anticipated. Captain Phillips' retirement dates from January 1, 1932.

Some thirty years ago he entered the employ of the company in the Pittsburgh General offices and after working there five years was transferred to New Castle as captain of police. This position he has held ever since and has conducted the affairs of his department in a way that reflected credit upon the company and himself. No matter what emergency ever arose, Captain Phillips handled it in such a way that there was no unfavorable reaction. Largely because of his judgment in handling the department, the police department of the Carnegie Steel Company here has always been free from the criticism that sometimes was leveled at similar departments in other communities.

As a testimonial to the esteem in which he is held, Captain Phillips was presented with a fitted traveling bag and a silk umbrella by the men of his department, with General Superintendent Robert J. Tully making the presentation in Captain Phillips' office.

The only break in his twenty-five years service in New Castle occurred during the war when he went to Neville Island with John S. Oursler who had charge of the building of an ordnance plant there.

Sometime soon Captain and Mrs. Phillips expect to leave for the south where they will vacation until spring. After that his plans are indefinite.

Captain Phillips has been a factor in the civic life of New Castle and Lawrence county since coming here. For many years he lived in New Castle but some years ago built a home on the Wilmington road, near New Wilmington. His civic and fraternal interests have kept him busy in the Kiwanis club, various civic drives, and in the Masonic fraternity. In the Kiwanis club he has filled many of the committee chairmanships and served one year as president.

Otto Kahn, partner of the company, was directed to prepare and submit the information when he appeared before the committee in its investigation of the floating of foreign securities in this country.

Figures previously obtained by the committee from witnesses disclosed that in floating a total of $2,285,000,000 in foreign securities, Morgan & Co., the National City company, and Kuhn, Loeb & Co., made profits amounting to over $100,000,000.

On the basis of these figures members of the committee estimate that profits on the more than ten billion dollars in foreign bonds that were floated could amount to over $200,000,000. Huge returns, they declared, were made by the banks which handled securities now held by hundreds of small banks and by over a million individual investors.

These issues include federal, state and city bonds. They were floated by the Chase National Bank of New York, Interstate Trust Company of New Orleans, Bankers Trust Company, New York, National City Bank, Key, Higginson & Company, Halsey, Stuart & Company, Ladenburg, Thalmann & Company, White, Weld & Company, Hallgarten-Kissel, Kinncutt, Kuhn, Loeb & Company.

According to the report made by Jack White, he was enroute north on Wilmington avenue, between Moody and Edison avenues, when Andrew Flout ran from the west to the east side of the street, carrying an umbrella. He ran directly in front of the automobile and Mr. White did not realize that he was there, until he was directly in front of the right front fender and he was unable to stop his machine to avoid the accident.

The fender struck him and knocked him to the street. Mr. White called an ambulance and had him removed to the Jameson hospital, where he was found to be bruised about the body and particularly on the left side. It is anticipated that he will be able to leave the hospital in a few days.

E. W. Hindsman of 217 Newell avenue, reported Friday that he had his car parked on North Liberty street, between Orchard and Maple streets, when a car bearing Pennsylvania license 91-987 going south on Liberty street, hit and damaged his car.

Two hundred officials and employees became ill at a Christmas party given by a hospital. Well, if one is to become ill, what more appropriate place?—The Charleston (W. Va.) Daily Mail.

Some Of Foreign Bonds In Default

Are Defaulted, Senate Probe Shows

(International News Service)
WASHINGTON, Jan. 2.—A total of $315,467,000 approximately one-third, of the estimated three billion dollars of Latin American bonds floated in the United States in the past ten years are in default, Kuhn, Loeb & Company, reported to the senate finance committee today.

Otto Kahn, partner of the company, was directed to prepare and submit the information when he appeared before the committee in its investigation of the floating of foreign securities in this country.

NEW YORK STOCKS

Little Change In Market Prices In Day's Trading

By W. S. COUSINS
International News Service Financial Editor

NEW YORK, Jan. 2.—The industrial and railroad stocks drifted off to lower price levels in the first session of the new year.

Sandwiched in between the holiday and Sunday, today's two-hour session saw little change in the situation as far as the buying demand for stocks was concerned. Before the end of the first half-hour the market was greeted with an outpouring which promptly carried General Motors, Western Union and Westinghouse to the lowest prices for the entire year. While United States Steel and American Telephone dipped to within a fraction of its low level. Surprising weakness was shown by General Motors which fell off about 2 points to a new low at 20 1/2 in heavy offerings.

From the stock market standpoint, today's selling of the favorites represented the final disposal of the left-overs from the year-end liquidation. Meeting with indifferent buying demand from either investment or speculative quarters, these stocks were forced downward to the next levels, but not before they had dipped under the lowest recorded in 1931.

Auburn Auto fell off 7 1/2 points from its opening price, when the stock dipped from 133 to 125 1/2. DuPont dropped back about 3 points to 52 1/2. United States Steel was off 1 1/2. American Telephone 3 1/2. Allied Chemical 2. Corn Products 2. General Electric 1 1/2. Worthington Pump 1 1/2. Western Union was again under pressure and fell off 4 1/2 points to 34.

THE FARMER AND THE MULE
(International News Service)
HARRISBURG, Ky.—A discouraged farmer here who watched his 1931 tobacco crop sell for almost nothing on the local market, turned to the bystanders and made this remark:

"Heck! What's the use of raising crops? I'm never again going to say 'git up!' to a mule unless he's settin' in my lap!"

The tobacco market has established a new low price mark this year.

SOCCER TEAMS PLAY
(International News Service)

NEW BEDFORD, Mass., Jan. 2.—The New Bedford soccer team was one up today over the New York Giants in the two-game series to decide the championship of the American Soccer League. The locals defeated the Giants 8 to 3 in the opening game yesterday.

The second game will be played in New York at the Polo Grounds tomorrow.

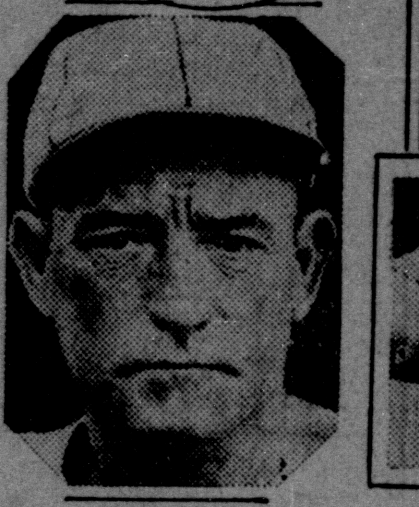

WHAT WILL THEY DO IN BASEBALL RACES OF 1932

1931 PHILADELPHIA ATHLETICS

McCarthy

Pepper Martin

Ruth's Legs

In this layout are pictured the questions every major league fan is asking. What will happen in 1932? Will the Philadelphia Athletics win their fourth pennant? Will Manager Gabby Street's

Cardinals win their third straight? Will Pepper Martin be a greater hero or the greatest bust? Will Manager Joe McCarthy's Yankees catch the Athletics and Manager John McGraw's Giants pass the Cards? Will Lefty Grove's famed flipper toss 30 more wins, and will Babe Ruth's aging pins stand the strain of another season? Answer 'em—if you can. Your guess is as good as anybody's.

Where Reductions Were Made In City Budget For Year

No council in recent years has had ideas of officials-elect to assist in the manufacture of a budget for a coming year, but as the invitation to do this year was unanimous, agreed to, two sets of minds worked strenuously to cut the cost of operating the city, and as a result the budget has been lowered and millage cut.

There were several factors which entered into the reduction of the budget. All officials agreed to do 10 per cent of their salaries in conformity with the 10 per cent employees' wage cut. This approximated between $26,000 and $30,000.

The Pennsylvania Power Company's vice president, Louis Round, agreed to furnish the same lights on the streets to the city at a price 10 per cent less than the contract price, which permitted a slash of about $8,632.

Several vacancies in the police department and sanitary department will not be filled and the salaries appropriated in 1931 for the berths were cut off. It was decided not to buy any new equipment and to do no large improvements in 1932.

The main reduction in the mayor's department, or department of public affairs, was in salaries; and the appropriation made for 1932 is $92,912 compared to $106,172 for 1931.

It is probable that the police will require a small but new police car. In the department of accounts and finance, salary cuts took place and the cost for 1932, will be $23,040 compared to $28,000 for 1931. Workmen's compensation this year cost about $4,300 or $300 above the appropriation. Only $4,000, has been set aside for 1932.

Department of Public Safety salaries were cut but as the city recently ordered bought 1,000 feet of fire hose the city will have to pay $1,000 out of the 1932 fund so an extra sum and totalling $3,000 was set aside for hydrants and hose. It is $1,000 less than in 1931.

For 1931 there was $6,000 designated for new equipment. It has been bought, delivered and put in service. It is a new fire truck at the Second ward. No new fire trucks will be bought this year but $1,000 is available for repairs and possibly some from $3,000 contingent.

The fire department appropriation for 1932 is $79,339 compared to $94,368 for 1931. There was a cut also in the health bureau salaries which left a total for 1932 of $40,970 compared to $43,200 in 1931.

Requests City To Resurface Street

City Has Failed To Do Its Share; $5,500 Left In Conduit Fund

There is an indication that after several years delay Cedar street carway may be resurfaced according to a discussion which occurred when council and solons-elect prepared the budget for the coming year.

During a discussion Councilman Burns remarked that the city still had about $5,500 left from the sale of the conduit, the money of which was to be used for a permanent improvement.

Councilman Davies requested that the money be used to resurface street and that local labor be used. "When the street car company repaved with brick their section it was understood the city would pave its share," said Davies.

"This has not been done. I believe we could resurface the street and might be able to find some more money to add to the $5,500."

Crashed to Death

Here is a recent photo of Gardner Hale, noted New York artist, whose body was found crushed under the wreckage of his automobile at the bottom of a 500-foot cliff 40 miles south of Santa Maria, Cal. He had apparently missed a curve in the rain. Hale was one of the favorite mural artists and fresco painters of society, his work appearing in homes of the "400" as well as in many churches and chapels.

TOWER CHIMES TO MEXICO
TRIBURG, Germany.—The Black Forest tower clock factory Schonach, near Triburg, has completed a carillon of ten bells for Gaudaloupe, Mexico. It has the Westminster chime and plays two Mexican sacred airs. The carillon is a gift of the Mexican priesthood for the Gaudaloupe pilgrims' church.

Scouts Here Win Red Cross Award

Newest Emblem Held For Presentation To Council on Thursday

PLAN FOR ANNUAL
MEET THAT NIGHT

When the annual meeting of the Lawrence County council of the Boy Scouts of America convenes in the Highland U. P. church on Thursday evening, January 7, at 8 o'clock, there will be a surprise banner on the speakers' rostrum ready for presentation to the council organization.

In today's mail came a handsome green and red water proofness banner to the Boy Scout office from the American Red Cross, an award symbolizing the successful accomplishment of certain standards which Camp John M. Phillips and other scout camps are expected to meet in their water programs.

You have successfully met these standards and have exceeded them in some instances, wrote Fred C. Mills, national director of swimming and water safety for the Boy Scouts. Scout Executive Herbert Horton plans to have the banner presented at the annual meeting.

Election Slated
Notices carrying the news of the important session have already been deposited in the mails, addressed to voting members of the council. A nominating committee with the Rev. A. M. Stump as chairman is completing a slate of new officers and members-at-large for submission that night.

Written reports will be read Thursday night by the various committee chairmen of the Lawrence County council, before the office forwards them to national headquarters.

Dr. C. J. Williamson, rector of the Highland U. P. church, will also retire that evening from the presidency of the county scout council. He will preside until a successor is chosen.

LEGION CORPS TO REHEARSE MONDAY

Members of the bugle and drum corps of the Legion of Honor of the New Castle Consistory are holding their regular rehearsal Monday evening, when all members of the corps are requested to attend.

The corps has been making good headway, and a number of new members have been added to the organization, which will be heard from on numerous occasions during the coming year.

VITAMIN A IN CARROTS

DENVER.—The carrot is rapidly coming into its own as an important article of diet as a result of experiments being carried on by Harold S. Olcott, a Denver university graduate and Yale fellow working with Dr. Duane C. McCann of Iowa University. Experiments conducted by the two scientists have revealed the presence of vitamin A in considerable quantities in the carrot. Without vitamin A an eye disease which often develops blindness may occur.

The January court of honor will be announced at a later date.

Cattle Owners Aroused Over Theft Of 2 Cows One Of Them Butchered

Cattle owners in the Hillsville district are aroused over one of the boldest robberies ever committed in that section, when thieves stole two cows from the barn of James Luke.

One of the cows was killed and butchered along the railroad tracks a short distance from Hillsville. The other one was shot and wounded but managed to escape. The cow may have to be killed.

Constable William J. Edwards states that it is believed the cows were driven to the place where one was butchered and the other shot.

It is supposed that the carcass of the butchered cow was hauled away in a truck.

So far Constable Edwards has been unable to obtain any clue to the perpetrators of the crime. It is believed, however that the thieves were from Ohio.

The Luke barn is located on the outskirts of Hillsville. Boldness of the robbery has naturally alarmed all owners of live stock.

There have been numerous robberies of chicken coops, but this is the first time that cattle have been stolen.

Boy Scouts Here Given Promotion

Week's Court Of Honor Shifts
Boys' Ranks Higher; Honor Many

The advancement of local Boy Scouts in scout requirements has continued to increase at a good rate during the year just passed, according to information from the local council office of the Boy Scouts. The court of honor held in New Castle this week saw these scouts and leaders advanced in rank as given below:

From Tenderfoot to second class rank—Nimer J. Habib, troop 21; Bob Cole, troop 37; William Hoffman, troop 37; Gene Schweinberg, troop V-1; David Matthews, troop 15; Russ Warner, troop 15; Lloyd Williams, troop 37.

Scouts who were advanced from second to first class rank included: John Christie, Lawrence Bennett, Edward McKee, James Pherson and Robert Zahner of troop 15; Walter Rice of troop 21; Crawford Lyon of troop 37 and Reed Shiner of troop 55.

Merit badges were awarded to these scouts: Herman Kitchen, Russell Book, Gerald Book, Ralph Davis, Robert Keck, John Christie, Walter Conover, Fulton Cook, Roy Miller, William Pherson, James Pherson, Joe Proctor, Robert Ray, Robert Zahner and Lawrence Bennett, all of troop 15; Rod D. Campbell, troop 10; John McClelland, troop 2; Dick Hamilton, Joe Lloyd, Bud McCarrie and Roger Rowe of troop 17; James Gravenstreter and Dr. R. C. Lutz, troop 37; and Scout Edward Schlossberg and Scout William Bilger of troop 55.

Advancements from merit badge rank (first class) to Star rank were made as follows: Herman Kitchen and William Pherson, troop 15; Russell W. Gustafson, Joe Lloyd, Robert Moore and Roger Rowe, all of troop 17; William Bilger and Scout Edward Schlossberg of troop 55.

The January court of honor will be announced at a later date.

Woman Is Victim Of Brutal Attack

Elizabeth Hughes, 28, Maid In
T. M. Ripson Home, Near
New York, Attacked

(International News Service)
NEW YORK, Jan. 2.—Miss Elizabeth Hughes, 28, a maid employed in the Hempstead home of Theodore M. Ripson, former President of the Nassau County Bar Association, was in a critical condition at the Nassau county hospital following an attack early today.

The woman was found on the front porch of the Ripson home by the butler who answered a ring at the front door shortly after midnight. She was unconscious. Her clothing was in shreds and her face, arms and body a mass of bruises. She had left the house to attend a late movie show and is believed to have been attacked on her way home.

Miss Hughes is the second victim of a criminal attack in Nassau county this week.

TREES TO BE FIRE-PROOF

(International News Service)
PARIS.—Trees that will help prevent forest fires are going to be planted along the Mediterranean coast districts, according to a suggestion made by Maurice Mangin, inspector of forests who has been studying this problem for some time. They will be the "acacia decurrens," a tree belonging to the mimosa branch, which is more or less fireproof. Monsieur Mangin believes that if they are planted in belts around the pine forests there will be fewer outbreaks and they will prevent fires from spreading.

CALL SEASCOUT CREW

The crew of the Seascout ship "Lawrence" manned by scouts of the Lawrence County Boy Scout council, will gather tonight at 6 o'clock in their customary meeting place.

Members will be expected to have their sea histories completed and undergo a rehearsal of knot tying. They will also hear of Scout Executive Herbert Horton's visit to the "Wolverine" now tied up in the Erie lake harbor.

ABE MARTIN

On More About Divorces

"I jest got so tired sawin' bread, an' listenin' to his excuses fer not gittin' some o' th' jobs he was allus talkin' about havin' in view, that I jest decided to go to work myself," says Ger Purviance, who recently divorced her husband, an' is now a fitter at the girde counter o' the Monarch 5 & 10. I recently read a paper before the Cow Pea Growers' Association on "Our Growin' Disregard Fer Contracts," in which I said that ther must be somethin' involved fer greater than love to make the modern marriage stick. I intimated that ther must be some money, or the prospect o' some money, fer ther'll be cars an' furs an' food to provide, teeth to fill (mebbe costly bridgework), hose, clothes an' pumps to match. I told 'em that in eight marriages out o' ten the husband hain't got nothin' on the wives hain't got nothin' that the fimsy excuses, an' cooked-up pretexes, fer wantin' divorces would be disturbin' if the plaintiffs wuzn' so young an' had practically ther whole lives ahead o' them. I said ther's nothin' to do but split 'em up an' put 'em back in the crowd. The contention in the divorce courts today is the result o' courtin' roasters. A quarter of a century ago a feller used to spend a steel fer a couple o' weeks, sometimes one whole winter, an' ther wuz extreme cases where some sparkin' covered a two-year period. Once in a long time ther wuz a case o' love at first sight, where a girl's skirt got caught in a barbed wire fence, or she tried to step in a high buggy, but such cases were so rare that they were unusual, an' the resultant marriage wuz nearly allus a blow-off. Today a feller kin tell across the street whether he loves a girl or not, an' ther's no occasion or excuse fer long-drawn-out engagements.

There she is, you kin see what you're gittin', take her, or leave her alone. So fer as raisin' a mustache an' learnin' a trade, or gittin' a position, before even considerin' marriage, that's ole stuff. Marry in haste an' walk out when you please is the theory today. Marryin' to step in a high buggy, but such an' regrettin' it. Ther's rarely anything involved in the average marriage, 'cept a brief change o' venue. A feller won't walk out on an overcoat after he's soaked some real money in it, an' a young wife'll rarely sneak back to her parents if her husband kin dress her. When a young wife wants clothes she'll go where clothes is. Where ther's bills ther must be some prosperity. But it's a sad commentary on our civilization when only two marriages out o' ten last longer than the bride's original clothes.

Tariff Reduction Slips Out Of Session's Program Due To Divided Control

Democrats, Believing They Would Be Balked By President, Incline Toward Reciprocity, But Tariff Walls Will Be Attacked

By CHARLES P. STEWART
Central Press Staff Writer
WASHINGTON, Jan. 2.—Tariff reduction will not get very far at this session of congress, for two or three reasons.

In the first place, the Democrats, who, generally speaking, consider present rates much too high, control only the house of representatives; not the senate. Secondly, although many folk believe President Hoover to be personally a low tariff man, he presumably would veto bound, as a Republican, to veto downward revision, even if a majority in its favor could be mustered by the combined Jeffersonians and C. O. P. insurgents on Capitol Hill. Thirdly, the Democrats themselves, in the existing state of the world, incline toward a reciprocity program in preference to unqualified reduction, and this will take time—more than is likely to be available between now and next spring's congressional adjournment for the national conventions.

However, the urgent necessity for a lowering of tariff walls, as the most important single step (so the Democrats contend) toward the restoration of international trade and prosperity, is sure to be much discussed.

Tariff experts of the Democratic party thus will be much in the foreground as the winter progresses in Washington.

Four of them stand out conspicuously.

Senators Cordell Hull of Tennessee and Edward P. Costigan of Colorado in the upper house of congress; Representatives Henry T. Rainey of Illinois and David J. Lewis of Maryland in the lower one.

Properly, perhaps, the representatives should be named first, since it is in the representatives' chamber that tariff legislation must originate.

Nevertheless, there is a certain justification for heading the list of the great tariff quartet of the Democrats with the name of Senator Hull, as a statesman who unquestionably would rate high among his party's presidential possibilities but for the pure accident of geographical undesirability, due to dying but not yet thoroughly defunct popular prejudices, in the Tennessee case, for his ancestors were on both sides of the struggle of secession.

Incidentally, for the juncture of today, the senator is too dry, but his dryness is part of his geography.

Senator Hull, in brief, is a student of government, of economics and of international trade relationships such as any country is lucky to produce as often as once in a generation.

Republicans as well as Democrats defer both to his judgment and his honesty.

He will be Tennessee's favorite son at the Jeffersonian convention in 1932.

He will not be nominated in first place, of course. As a partisan choice he would be an excellent selection for second place, and not at all an unlikely one, but it would be unfortunate; his voice and his vote are needed in the senate.

With all due respect to the excellent abilities of Congressman James W. Collier, new chairman of the ways and means committee (which frames tariff legislation) in the Democratically organized house of representatives, the ideal individual to direct the task of tariff readjustment would have been Congressman Rainey.

Not counting a two-year break in his record, he would have been chairman, too, as the committee's senior Democratic member.

The misfortune of a single defeat, in the Republican landslide of 1920, cost him his rating, and although he was consoled with the Democratic floor leadership (technically a more exalted post), he is not where he is most needed.

True, the Illinois veteran will be a potent influence in the tariff planning of his party.

Indeed, reciprocity was his suggestion first.

Representative Lewis recently returned to congress after a 14-year lapse, during which he had the advantage of a course of intensive experience as a member of the federal tariff commission. He was appointed to it as a tariff expert of the congressional type. His commissioner's term supplemented the theory with practice.

It ended during President Coolidge's administration. The Northamptonian offered to renew it upon condition which would have required Lewis, a Democrat to shape his future findings to Republican ideas. Refusing to do so, the Marylander ran for congress again at the earliest opportunity—and won.

Senator Costigan not only was a tariff commission member, he was the commission's chairman. He is a tariff authority of the first magnitude, but not a life-long Democrat. Once, indeed, he was a Republican. In 1912 he followed the Roosevelt boat. In 1917 President Wilson appointed him to the newly-created tariff board.
"What are you politically, anyway?" the then Senator Charles Curtis of Kansas asked him, when his appointment was submitted for confirmation. "A progressive," said the Coloradan, "of Republican antecedents and with Democratic consequences." "What a heck of a kind of a Republican!" commented the future vice president, but he voted for confirmation.

To Grow Barley In Mercer County

Has Great Value As Food For Cattle, Farm Bureau Head States

MERCER, Pa., Jan. 2.—Growing of barley in Mercer county in 1932 has been decided on as one of the items of the agricultural program now being drawn up by the farm bureau.

Barley is said to be of great value as a feed for cattle.

Very little of the grain is now being grown in the county. It is hardy, will thrive under handicap conditions, say growers. Heads of five varieties of the grain will be made by the bureau this spring to determine which is the best adapted to county soil.

AWAIT COURT DECISION

With exceptions to the account of W. B. Gordon commissioner in banking in possession of Dollar Title and Trust Company of Sharon argued and testimony presented, the decision of the court will be a big factor in the liquidation of this bank.

The bank closed its doors in November of 1930.

On August 1st of this year Gordon filed his account to which five exceptions were at once filed objecting to the rating given their accounts.

Depositors come first. Once the exceptions are adjudicated payments to depositors can start.

DESERPTION CASES GROW

Desertion and non-support cases increased twenty-five per cent during 1931 in Mercer county courts and numbered 95 actions for the year.

Many of the cases brought to the attention of Judge J. A. McLaughlin resulted in the defendants being turned loose to make if possible the money of which complaint was registered they had failed to pay their families.

ONLY ONE MURDER

The year 1931 will pass into history memorable because but one murder case was listed during the year. The action is that of March Demofonti sent to Farnham Asylum for insane as result of five killings at No. 2 Mine on July 23rd last. The crime, the most terrible in county history, was disposed of by a lunacy commission who recommended his incarceration for life.

COLLECT BILLS

Collection of all bills due county officers is now taking place that books may be balanced by January 4th when the offices are turned over to incoming officials.

MY NEW YORK

(By Central Press)
NEW YORK, Jan. 2.—Two friends of mine have composed articles, to appear shortly in national magazines, applauding the so-called "depression" and listing its many advantages over the equally so-called "prosperity." The movement to rejoice in the present state of affairs, hinted at before here, thus gains space.
In the main, arguments of the slump-lovers hold that now a certain human quality has entered relationships, never present during the frantic scramble for gold. They contend that American life has slackened its pace, and that when people are comfortable once more they will retain a sense of the worth of life in itself, of leisure and quiet talk. When boom times return, chronic grouches can thus still find something to be about.

ON THE MOVE
Charles Ray glimpsed near the Paramount the other afternoon—looking older and more tired, his famed jaunty smile submerged. His meteoric rise and fall in pictures was equaled by few other recipients of phantom fame. He now is acting on the "subway circuit"—theaters in the suburbs and smaller towns near New York.

As I punched those dashes I looked out over the East river and saw a bright electric torch waving from a high window of "Tudor City," an apartment development.

BUSINESS HAS BEEN ROTTEN — YOU HAD TO FIRE ME, BUT WE'RE THE BEST OF PALS!

Now a certain human quality has entered relationships, never present during the frantic scramble for gold.

steamer, Boston-bound, returned the salute with a searchlight's waving arm. The procedure is repeated every other evening. No doubt the resident of Tudor City is a friend of the captain's, and takes that method of saying hello. . . . The railroads are competing with the ship lines for the winter excursion trade; posters flame in the stations offering low-rate jaunts to French Lick, Lake Placid, Palm Beach, and so on. . . . That big department store at 34th street and Broadway seems to me the hardest point to reach in all New York; why don't they dig out a subway entrance? . . .

Caught a glimpse of Carlyle Blackwell this morning in the lobby of the Waldorf. . . . Who?—you're asking. . . . Carlyle Blackwell, ladies and gentlemen, whose name was once more potent with magic than many a screen idol of this hour. . . . I remember how they trundled me in my kiddie car to watch him along with his co-stars of the dime-movie days: Fatty Arbuckle, John Bunny, Flora Finch, "Broncho" Billy Anderson, Francis X. Bushman, Beverly Bayne, William S. Hart and Mabel Normand. . . . What a book could be written tracing those checkered careers! . . .

Fire and pitch and rods and pain—
If one had not come tumbling after
To make songs to her again. . . .

She could have stood through hell-fire bravely.
If he had not touched her hair,
Saying, though he'd wronged her gravely,
How her eyes were still quite fair.

PRACTICALLY!
A mild, blue-eyed, genial little man presides over the kitchens of the Waldorf. He is directly under the famous Oscar, and was the principal chef to King Edward VII. You'd never know it. He resembles a retired polo player or a prosperous, intellectual farmer in New England.

The other evening I pushed my way through a labyrinth of corridors and buttonholes him, by name Alexandre Gastaud. "What's all this about King Edward being the greatest judge of food who ever lived. Is it just a legend?"

"But non, M'sieu. The King, he was a bon vivant, a great eater of marvelous taste! But then—he was practically a Frenchman, as you of course know."

COMING UP
I haven't forgotten that the announcement promised of an unusual nature, interesting to you (and you, too!). It's on the fire—to be served up with a bang shortly.

RECEPTION
A reception was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Martin near East Brook, Wednesday evening, in honor of their daughter, Virginia, who was recently married to Joe Ruong of Lakewood. The young couple were presented with many beautiful gifts. Cards, games, and music were the chief diversions of the evening. At a late hour a tasty lunch was served.

EAST BROOK NOTES
Mr. and Mrs. Cummings of East Brook, spent Tuesday with Mr. and Mrs. N. O. Allen of Volant.

Jack Court of New Castle spent Wednesday with Mr. and Mrs. Kennedy of East Brook.

Wilbur Stirtz of New Castle spent New Years with Bob Waddington.

Harold McConahy, Omar Pink, Charles Kelley, Bill Elger, and James Gardner, are among those in Scout Troop No. 58 spending New Year's Day at the Scout Camp near Slippery Rock.

CLUB MAKES PLANS
Dr. Homer Henderson, the 1932 leader of the Grove City Commercial Club, is making plans for a year of active work on the part of the members.

The naming of committees that will function in co-operation with the club officers has already taken place.

The Commerce Club is one of the town's oldest institutions. It ranks among the oldest in the state that have held their identity since organization, which is the case here.

CALENDAR PARTY
The first calendar party ever held in the Presbyterian church was that at six p. m. today, at which covers were laid for 450 diners.

Invitations were issued on a basis of guests designated as months, in viting those in the role of weeks and in like manner days. Each guest made a special contribution to the church building fund at the program following dinner.

CAR IS STOLEN
George Henderson of Harrisville reported today to Police Chief Charles Ray theft of his car from its parked location at a farmhouse north of Harrisville.

HOLD ANNUAL DANCE
The annual New Year's eve dance of the Fox Club of Grove City was held last evening at the Penn Grove Hotel.

There were 200 guests in attendance.

EAST BROOK
SURPRISE PARTY
Misses Louise Munnell and Mary Elizabeth Patton were joint hostesses Wednesday evening, at the home of Louise Munnell, when they entertained a group of friends in form of a birthday surprise party in honor of Robert Speer. Games and Music were the diversions of the evening. At a late hour a delightful lunch was served by Mrs. W. B. Munnell assisted by Avis Shaw, Maxine Bigler and Mary Elizabeth Patton.
